

Looking At It From Your Side

One-sided transactions have no place in this bank. We believe in looking at BOTH sides—yours as well as our own.

Our chief concern is to please YOU, not ourselves; and we will go as far as sound banking practice will let us in giving you THAT KIND of service.

Instead of doing as little as we can for our customers, our idea is to do AS MUCH as we can.

Therefore nothing that you may ask us to do in the way of serving you will ever be regarded as a "bother."

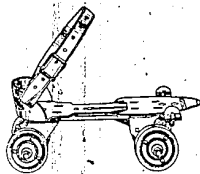

We are here to serve you, and nothing will please us so much as to have you give us the opportunity.

Borrowing From Uncle Sam

THE time ought to come, and very soon, when any group of hard-working, honest farmers, even though they may be very poor, can borrow direct from the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks," says Herbert Quick in an able discussion of intermediate credits in next week's issue of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

As the first step to be taken, an organization of cooperative associations to clear commercial paper is suggested in Mr. Quick's article, "What Are the Intermediate Credit Banks, and Why?"

Always national rather than sectional in its treatment of outstanding agricultural questions of the day, THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, as evidenced by this article by a recognized economic expert, gives its subscribers an authoritative review, week by week, of things that most intimately concern every American farmer.
