

THIS WOMAN'S MARVELLOUS RECOVERY

All Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Truman, Minn.—"I was badly run-down, had pains in my side and back; sometimes I could hardly move around in bed. My husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking it I was much better. I could do all my housework, have a garden, raise chickens, and in the best time I worked in the field and helped with corn. Sometimes I do chores and milk. I took the Vegetable Compound before and after my four-month-old baby was born, and it has always helped me wonderfully. I believe there is no better medicine made for women, and I hope every woman will give it a fair trial."—Mrs. Annice E. Wrentham, R. No. 2, Box 34, Truman, Minn.

MEMORIAL DAY 1924

2nd Virginia Infantry, a six-gun battery on elevated ground, overpowered the gunners and captured the guns. A Confederat mounted a cannon and waved the Academy flag. And how the triumphant youngsters yelled! They lost 3 killed and 40 wounded in that wild charge. Truly, the American is the same fighting man from one generation to another.

Memorial Day will see both the Blue and the Gray in line, marching as bravely as of yore. But about the steps will be feebleness and ranks thinner. Herewith is pictured Maj. Giles B. Cook, who has just left the White House, after inviting President Coolidge to attend the commencement exercises of the Law University of Virginia. He is said to be the only survivor of the twelve members of the staff that surrounded the late President Grant at Appomattox Court House. "Uncle Jack" Armstrong, a widower, 85, is the oldest member of the G. A. R. in New England; he is Henry D. Lay of West Newbury, Mass., who celebrated his hundredth birthday the other day, with his good wife by his side and surrounded by children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. What changes life! The political world has practically been made over. The industrial and commercial world has been revolutionized. The whole scheme of civilization has been changed. The American people have marched from the Mississippi to the Pacific.

When Henry D. Lay was born in 1824 there were only twenty-four states on the flag. The western boundary of the United States was the Rocky Mountains and the Red River. Missouri and Louisiana were the only two states west of the Mississippi. No figures are at hand for the United Confederate Veterans, whose general commander is Gen. William B. Haldane, Louisville, Ky. But the figures for the Grand Army of the Republic, whose commander in chief is Gaylord M. Saltzgeber, Vicksburg, Miss., tell a saddening story. The peak of the membership was 400,480 in 1890. In 1921 the membership had dwindled to 85,073. In 1922 it was 70,120. The decrease in Grand Army posts 1921-2 was 4,445 to 4,025. So, this year, there will be fewer veterans in Blue and in Gray to cheer, and more graves to cover with blossoms. But, praise God, we can strew flowers alike for Grant and Lee, for Sherman and Jackson, for Sheridan and Stuart and for their men, with—

Love and tears for the Blue. Tears and love for the Gray.

Two new graves there are this Memorial Day to which the thoughts of the American people will instinctively turn, the grave of Warren G. Harding and the grave of Woodrow Wilson. Each was stricken down in the service of his country. Each deserves well of his country.

Out of the Blue and the Gray came the Khaki. Oh, that the thousands who wish it could strew flowers "Over There!" But—

Too far away are Flanders Fields Upon his grave to lay My roses and forget-me-nots, My rosemary and bay; A heart's poetry on my breast Will speak Memorial Day.

Doubtless the quintessence of the American people's thoughts on Memorial Day will be in the offerings at the national shrine in Arlington, the tomb of our "Unknown Soldier."

We gather him to the Nation's breast, within the shadows of the Capitol, of the towering shaft that honors Washington, the great father, and of the exquisite monument to Lincoln, the martyred savior.

to school a white, and in 1871 was appointed by General Grant second lieutenant in the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry. He was promoted first lieutenant in 1874, appointed captain and assistant quartermaster in 1882, promoted major and quartermaster in 1885, lieutenant colonel in 1892, and colonel in 1903, and was retired August 13, 1915. In the intervening years he saw active service on the border, among the Indians and in Porto Rico, and was chief quartermaster in the Philippines several years.

VETERAN JUDGE GIVES FACTS IN HIS CASE

Honorable A. P. Tarbox, distinguished lawyer and judge, residing at 217 West 23rd St., University Place, Neb., lends his name to further the cause of Tanlac, the famous treatment that has proved of such great benefit to him.

"If anybody knows what Tanlac will do," recently said Judge Tarbox, "it is me, for the medicine has kept me on my feet and able to work for the past two years."

Judge Tarbox has been a member of the bar since early method and has practiced law in Illinois, Nebraska and Oklahoma for more than a half century. He is a charter member of Farquhar Post, Lincoln, O. A. R., and is prominent in fraternal order circles. Speaking further of his experience with Tanlac, Judge Tarbox said:

"Stomach trouble had been the bane of my existence even before the Civil War. Indigestion such as I find is about the worst enemy a person could have, and it kept getting worse all the time.

"I simply could not have kept going the past two years if it had not been for Tanlac. It made my weak stomach sound and wholesome, did away with all signs of indigestion and built me up in a way I had thought impossible.

"In fact, Tanlac has brought me health, strength and happiness when I was sick and suffering, so I have every reason to give it my unqualified endorsement and praise."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills for constipation. Made and recommended by the manufacturers of TANLAC.

Lost—A Mother!

"I've lost my mother," said Rene. "Do I understand you to mean that your mother is dead?" asked Ludovic. "Oh, nothing so luckless," replied Rene. "No, she's simply disappeared."

"But aren't you doing anything?" asked Ludovic.

"Oh, yes," returned Rene, "everything that can be done at short notice. We've notified the police and the family solicitors and consulted a crystal gazer, and we've told the dairy to send half a pint less milk every day till further notice. I can't think of anything else to do. It's the first time I've lost mother, you know."—From "The Square Egg" by H. H. Munro.

MEMORIAL DAY

MEMORIAL DAY is with us again, and again all good Americans will fittingly observe this national holiday—and holy day. For a sense of it is the most comprehensive of all our days of national observance. For Memorial Day has grown as the United States of America has grown, as the American people have grown.

Memorial Day is now hallowed by more than fifty years of observance. Think what it has now come, to mean to us. Can you not read into it something of the spirit of every one of our days of national observance?

Surely on Memorial Day an American can make good resolutions as fittingly as on New Year's Day, and with much to inspire them. The birthdays of Lincoln and Washington are closely akin to it. Arbor Day, with its memorial trees and its sense of responsibility to posterity, is closely in touch. Easter Day and Memorial Day are inseparably bound together in many loving pledges given to the cause of the Union and to the cause of the Republic. Day after day in the history of the United States, with its Independence Day, with its Armistice Day, there is something of Thanksgiving Day in it and something of the Christmas good will.

On Memorial Day, in short, we weep as we strew flowers because the dead are our kin; we thrill with pride that they so nobly died; we rejoice that they are in God's keeping. We assume, like not to rekindle vengeance fires, not to exult over the defeated, not to glorify war or to exalt militarism, but to give thanks of the Providence that has watched over our nation and to pledge ourselves anew to the cause of liberty, humanity and justice to which our nation is dedicated. Memorial Day means to us all that Old Glory means.

Hate out! Along the street there comes drama. A bare of bodies, a ruff of drums. A flag is passing by.

The flag is passing by. Blue and white and crimson it shines over the steel-tipped, ordered lines.

Hate out! The colors before us fly. But more than the flag is passing by.

Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great. Fought to make and to save the State. Woe to the nation that in the name of Liberty, humanity and justice to which our nation is dedicated. Memorial Day means to us all that Old Glory means.

The flag is passing by. Blue and white and crimson it shines over the steel-tipped, ordered lines.

Hate out! The colors before us fly. But more than the flag is passing by.

Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great. Fought to make and to save the State. Woe to the nation that in the name of Liberty, humanity and justice to which our nation is dedicated. Memorial Day means to us all that Old Glory means.
