A VERY VERY STRANGE COINCIDENCE

That great minds often run in he same channel was demonstated to our satisfaction when we glanced over last week's issue of the Rochester Clarion and discovered a very familiar aritcle headed "The Province of a Community Paper."

Paper."

Entertaining a distinct recollection of having written and pub lished the identical article the previous week with the exception of the name of this paper being changed to the Clarion, we were somewhat surprised to find so stringe a coincidence both in thought and verbiage. Nor does the puzzling coincidence end here. We find by reading the Clarion's article (?), with its familiar ring, that the publisher of that paper had just turned down, as we did, an advertising proposition which he deemed detrimental to the best interests of that community and fold of it in the same words used

POPULARITY OF THE

Test Shows Small Country Banks as Well as City Banks Strongly Favorable.

Assertions by some politicians that small banks generally are inimical to the Federal Reserve System were put to the test freeoutly by a committee appointed by John D. Phillips, president of the State Bank Division of the American Bankers' Association by means of a questionning seem to 11.000 sitto banks. The result indicated that no observablening majority of them are, in fact, friendly to the System.

inta ha o'orewbelping majority of them jare, in fact, friendly to the second process of them jare, in fact, friendly to the sakes. The first was as follows:

"Do you believe that the Federal Reserts System has been beneficial to the agricultural, commercial and banking inferests of the country and that it should be perpetuated?"

To this 4,934 replies were received. Of these 4,024 voted "yes" without qualification, and only, 61 voted "no. Further answers still coning in when this thoulation was made indicated the same froorable tredu. The second question asked by Mr. Phillips' committee was:

"If your not being a member should contribute to the destruction of the System, would you join?"

While Me great macrity of the System, lafragely for technical reasons, the active showed that the bulk of those non-members who are eligible to folly would do so if spach action were necessary to save the System. To his second question 2.876 have been recorded in voting 'yea" and only 725 as "no." Many 'refrained from voting on this question because under the present rules they are in-eligible for membership.

Some - replies voiced certain criticisms of the System, but these universally dealt with details of admissiration or of the rules and not with the principles of the institution.

What Do the Bankers Mean, "Eighteen Billion Dollars in the Savings Bank"?

By JOHN OAKWOOD

The bankers keep telling us that the savings accounts of the American people total eighteen billion downer lasked a dozen people what that meant to them. Most of them seemed to see visions of endless stacks of coins and bales of currency stowed away in the vaults of flue looking granite bank buildings.

Now, as a matter of fact, there is less than into billion dollars, worth of money in the country all told, including gold, silver, nickel and paper money of all kinds. That is less than half the eighteen billion. Therefore there must be something wrong with the vision of eighteen billion dollars in stacks and bales in the bank vanits. More than that, there probably is not more it one dollar for every twenty of that eighteen billion actually in the savings bank.

But the eighteen billion actually in the savings bank.
But the eighteen billion actually in the savings bank.
But the eighteen billion in savings bank is no myth just the same. Suppose all the sarings dependers could demand all their money all at once, and that they institled on immediate settlement one way or another when they found they could not get it all in cash. What would happen would be that they would come into possession chiefly of bonds—Government, state and municipal bonds and the best railroad, equipment, public utility and other corporation bonds. The savings depositors are really the owners of all this war real results.

What he bankers really mean, therefore, it hat the savings depositors, in the reals.

ity and other corporation bonds. The savings depositors are really the owners of all ithis vast real, wealth.

What the bankers really mean, therefore, is that the savings depositors, so far as money is concerned, have deposited elighteen billion doilars more than they have drawn out and therefore have greetly for that much is their savings accounts. The doilars, therefore have greetly for that much is their savings accounts. The doilars, there been sach out they handed in, have flowed right on through the banks—have been sach out doping the have been sally the hands of the depositors to be the savings and the depositors to be the sall of the depositors to be the sall of the depositors to be the sall of the depositors to be the sally rents his money out—puts it to work to earn him more money. The savings banks have done this for their depositors.

So the picture of idle piles of money its all wrong. Ever a picture of piles of bonds is wrong it it atops at that. The bonds represent two things. First, since they are readily saleable for each, they mean that any individual can get his savings out again in the form of money within a reasonable time. Secondly, and faore important, behind those bonds loom up the rail roads, factories, busyingsace and public works that he moley in the head of the country are the accumulating money—it is fice-cumulating real wealth. The mohey flows on tilke water to turn other wheels—the real wealth and savings of the country are the accumulated factories and other enterprises or denoted by the bonds.

Therefore the true picture of what the bankers man when they say the savings accounts of the American people total eighteen billion doilars, in stead of piles of minney in valus, would be factories, durings and bull lite works in action.
