

TRAVEL MONEY

The most convenient funds to use whenever you travel are travelers' checks.

We issue these in $10, $20, $50, and $100 denominations, bound in a little book containing just the right assortment.

Furthermore, travelers' checks are safer than money because they are valueless until countersigned.

Then they are accepted by banks, stores, hotels, railways, and steamship lines at face value.

HOUSEHOLD HELP

A houseful of servants is usually considered the privilege of the rich. Yet it is perfectly easy for any woman to enjoy a similar privilege and have all the comfort and leisure that go with it.

Your washing, your ironing, your sweeping, your dish washing, can all be done quickly and cheaply by electrical servants that never tire or complain and that you can depend upon every minute of every day.

Have electricity do your heavy household tasks and preserve your health and strength.

Skillful Seamanship

Disabling to give up his ship and backed by his crew, Capt. Charles Williams, seventy, of Cambridge, Mass., steered his vessel, the Brina P. Pendleton, for ten days without a rudder after the schooner had lost her steering apparatus in a gale. A sister steamer offered to take off the crew but they stuck to the vessel and by manipulating the sails, they zigzagged through gale after gale to Norfolk (Va.) harbor.

Wanted to Make Sure

We have twin girls for neighbors, alike as two peas, and when my son plays with them they expect him all the time about their names.

When he calls one Mary, she answers, "I'm Marion," or just the other way around.

(One of them was alone last week, to the delight of Jack, who ran to meet her, asking, "Which side of you is opt today?"—Chicago Tribune.

NOT UNDER HER THUMB

"I thought she had him under her thumb."
"That's what she thought; but found she had him on her hands."

Too Losing a Game

A man was saying how dissatisfied he was with his son-in-law. "What have you against him?" "He cannot play cards," said the father-in-law.

"You should be glad if he cannot play cards," he was told. "What do you say—should be glad?" was the reply. "He cannot play cards—but he plays, nevertheless."—Stray Stories

Bird Caused Fire

A strange cause for fire was uncovered at Charleston, W. Va. George Sharp's house was slightly damaged by a blaze. "Do you know what caused the fire?" a fire department lieutenant asked Sharp. "He did not, but one of his children did. According to the child's story, an acquisitive bird pulled a string from a burning trash pile and flew to its nest in an eave of the house.

Has the Last Page Habit

Editor—I hate those magazine serials.
Elaine—Why, dear?
Editor—You can never tell how the story is coming out until it is finished.
