

4-H Members Offered Grants

Nearly $10,000 in eight scholarships awaits 4-H members who plan careers in animal science, crop production or forestry.

The grants are part of the national College 4-H Scholarship fund for 1970 arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago, and awarded by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Two $800 scholarships will be awarded to 4-H boys who will be college juniors this fall and who plan to major in animal science. Candidates must have completed at least one year of 4-H membership. Allied Mills Foundation, Chicago, provides these scholarships.

TWO 4-H members enrolled this fall as college freshmen in agriculture will be awarded $800 scholarships offered by Chevron Chemical Company - Ortho Division, San Francisco. Candidates must have completed at least one year as 4-H members.

HomeLife, a Division of Textron Inc., Fort Chester, N.Y., provides four $1,600 scholarships to 4-H members enrolled this fall as college freshmen who plan to major or minor in forestry. To be eligible for the grants candidates must have completed at least three years of 4-H membership.

THE ALLIED MILLS Foundation, organized in 1969, is a new 4-H award donor. This is the first year it has provided 4-H educational grants. HomeLife and Chevron Chemical have given scholarships through the College 4-H Scholarship fund for 14 straight years.

Contest Offered For Rug Hookers

The second annual open rug hooking contest and rug hooking bee will be held from 12 noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, July 19, at Greenfield Village.

The exhibition of the ancient craft of rug hooking is open to all amateur and professional rug hookers from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Ontario.

First, second and third prize ribbons will be awarded in eight categories: pictorial, geometric, floral, bird and animal, oriental, novelties, (chair seats, footstools, handbags, etc.) abstract and crenel. In addition, a ribbon will be awarded to the best piece in the show. Previous entries cannot be shown again.

THOSE WISHING to enter may deliver not more than two pieces to the Frost Hooked Rug Studio in the village during the week of June 22 through June 27.

All entries should have a card firmly attached, stating the name, address, telephone number of the entrant and the name of the rug and designer. The village recommends that all entries be insured since they are accepted by the Village at the owner's risk.

ALL WHOSE entries are accepted for exhibition will be invited to participate in the rug hooking bee that day.

Dressed in period costumes of the 19th century, they will demonstrate the fine points of hooking as it was done in New England and Canada from the colonial days to the late 19th century.

Requests for detailed information and entry blanks should be addressed to: Robert G. Wheeler, vice president - Research and Interpretation, Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich. 48121.

HAWAII

Our Little Corner of the World.

Hawaii without any ups and downs.

The fastest way to fly is to make as few stops as possible. Which is why United's 12:00 Noon flight doesn't stop at all. It's the only nonstop from Detroit to Hawaii.

And our nonstop isn't our whole Hawaiian story. On every one of our Hawaii flights we offer continuous enjoyment.

For instance:
Royal Hawaiian service. Mai-This, Hawaiian appetizers, sumptuous meals. (A 7-course dinner in First Class, five in Coach.) There's even a Hawaiian steward to serve your after-dinner drink.

Beautiful atmosphere. We decked out our stewardesses (and our planes) in Hawaiian decor.

Entertainment. Wide-screen color movies. And stereo music with your choice of everything from Bach to rock.

Fun stuff. Like our boarding kit. With a treasure map of offset things to do and see in Hawaii, and a colorful booklet on the history of the Islands. And a discount book worth up to $100 on food and fun.

The kind of things you'll find on no other airline.

In short: if you're going to Hawaii, there are some excellent reasons to fly United.

One is our exclusive nonstop. The other is our belief in an old adage: Time flies when you're having a good time.
