A GREAT MENACE
By M. A. Traylor, Chairman, American Policy Commission, American Bankers Association.
A cross section of American thought today, as reflected in private conversation, public addresses and through our multitude of avenues of thought distribution, would reveal perhaps as great a confusion of ideas and purposes as was founded the assembly through at Babylon. Is it not high time that the bankers demand the preservation and practice of those sound fundamental principles which are so absolutely essential to the welfare of the nation? Bankers and business men of the country have little right to complain of the prevalence of unsound economic theories, of radical political tendencies and paralyzing foolish legislation, so long as they maintain the silent or defensive attitude which has characterized them in the past.
A few days ago I heard a gentleman, supposedly well versed in politics, say that if the charter of the Federal Reserve System were up for renewal or extension at the present time, he doubted very much if Congress would prolong the life of the System, and certainly if it did would only do so after such amendments and modifications as would destroy the basic principles underlying the present structure.
A real menace is involved in this suggestion, but I wonder how much we have done or will do to acquaint the voting public, who will eventually elect the Congress who will pass upon this proposition, with the actual facts of the case. Notwithstanding mistakes that have been made in the administration of the System, most of the opposition to it is based not upon facts but upon twisted stories and the absolute falsehoods of the office-seeker, who has found it easy and even for all the ill, alleged and imagined, which may affect any particular group.
Banking a Science
The science of banking is not an accident. It rests upon principles as fundamental as the laws of the universe. Long, technical and practical experience is absolutely essential to the safe management of any financial institution, and yet, what is the result of the political assaults that have been made upon the Federal Reserve, the greatest piece of financial machinery in this country? The people from time to time are electing to office men whose chief claim to their support is that they will see to it that every banker is driven from the Federal Reserve Board and that the Board shall be constituted in a majority or wholly of those coming from the particular bloc the politician alleges he represents.
There should be a diversity of interest represented upon the Board, but that the majority of the Board should ever be constituted of other than men thoroughly trained by practical experience in financial management is to me utterly unthinkable and is practiced with in the end lead to a complete disintegration of the strength of the System, if not to a worse conclusion.
We do not select bankers for our plowboys or bricklayers for our artists. We demand specialists for every character of specific activity, and the welfare of our whole population demands that the credit power of the nation, without which no business can live, must be committed likewise to the hands of experts in its use and distribution.
It is a pretty and catching phrase to declaim that if you destroy the

M. A. Traylor
The Agricultural Committee of the North Carolina Bankers Association, in conference with officials of the College of Agriculture, recently adopted the following program for active work in the state:
1. Add bounty agents in determining definite objectives for each community and organize county in community groups to carry them out.
2. Give each county a definite objective through an organization of farmers, bankers, and business men.
3. Secure from state and federal sources assistance in determining definite objectives and in giving instruction to members of community and county organizations.
4. Organize bankers, merchants, and farmers where desirable into better marketing units.
5. Secure co-operation of State College in surveying agricultural conditions and giving instructions through its specialists in organization, farm management, production, and marketing.

The New York Bankers Association described in a recent bulletin the campaign under foot to foster club work among boys and girls in the rural schools. Prizes have been donated by a number of the former presidents of the Association to be awarded to the children, the committee, and the banks interested in the work.

The Cowboys of Asia
The Buriats, a peculiar tribe of Mongolians, dwelling near Balkal lake, on the northern border of the Gobi desert, are known as the "cowboys of Asia." Like the traditional American cowboy they are expert riders and spend most of their time on horseback. The Buriat horse has great powers of endurance and always there is great attachment between master and animal.
Enough guarantors were obtained to assure Farmington of a Chautauqua for 1925.

Reshingle Once—For Your Lifetime

You can do that if you will use
"CREO-DIPT" STAINED SHINGLES
Quality of shingles. Each shingle is sawed from selected cedar logs—not from forest waste; all parallel widths—no wedge shapes; thoroughly seasoned—not baked to death in dry kilns. Better shingles are not to be found in any market.
Quality of stain. Each shingle is thoroughly stained by a special factory process. Pure pigments are ground twice in pure linseed oil and carried deep in the fibre of the wood with creosote oil. The result is preservation of wood as well as soft-toned colors that do not fade or wash out in greys.
They cost less than staining on the job.
Ask for quotation on "Creo-Dipt" Stained Shingles for side walls as well as roof. Come in and choose your colors from our attractive stock, or phone and we will call with samples.
