Character First

Many men seek fortune in order to be independent, they should rather seek character, the only true source of independence.

Columbia Old College

Columbia college, which was first known as King's college, was established in the middle of the Eighteenth century, and after a few years during the Revolutionary war, it has carried on its work in the city of New York. It was the college of Alexander Hamilton, John Jay, Robert R. Livingston, De Witt Clinton, Hamilton Fish and many other outstanding figures in the history of this nation.

Must Be a Peach

Only—"Sure I've bin married several years now and I've got a feline healthy boy. The neighbors say he's the very picture of me." Hobbs—"Ah, well, who's the harm so long as the child is healthy?"

Annexation of Hawaii

Hawaii was annexed by joint resolution of congress July 7, 1900, and created a territory by act of April 30, 1900. When the United States acquired the Hawaiian Islands she assumed the public debt to the amount of $4,000,000 instead of making actual payment. There are 20 islands in the Hawaiian group.

BIG SALARIES

One of the most powerful lures of the large city is the promise of big money.

Many of the young people of Farmington, no doubt, have been fascinated at times by tales of large salaries paid in the big cities. They have heard about fabulous incomes easily earned to work at nine o'clock, through at five, Saturday afternoons off, etc. No wonder they grow restless.

Well, what is the truth? Some time ago a former small town citizen, now head of a large wholesale coal business in Chicago, said something on the subject for the benefit of discontented young people. Here it is:

"Tell the young folks of your little city this. Tell them that if they should come to Chicago or any other large city they may receive a larger income than they do now. But they will buy less for it, and get less out of it, and save less of it (if any). Instead of finding themselves richer, they will find themselves poorer than before."

"For two small rooms and a still smaller kitchen, they will pay from $75 to $100 rent a month—and it won't be much like home. They will pay from $15 to $30 a month for garage rent, if they own a car."

"They will pay 50 cents a dozen for eggs, 5 cents a pound for potatoes (they buy them by the pound in the cities) 8 cents a pint of milk, 35 cents a pound for pork chops."

"They will have to pay out money every time they want to go anywhere, or see anything, or do anything. Anybody who thinks that the city is one round of enjoyment is fooling himself. It is one round of paying out money."

"That is why you see men in the large cities earning $10,000 a year and living in small apartments. Others with good salaries don't own cars and don't have bank accounts. They don't enjoy life one-half as much as the man making from $1,500 to $2,000 a year in the small town."

"Salaries like everything else are relative. Tell the young people of your town to consider not the number of dollars, but the amount of good their work will return to them. Tell them to remember old Cincinnati when he got through bossing ancient Rome, went back to the farm."

Fish Flour for Stock

France's fish flour, a product of recent origin, mixed with feed for animals, is said to increase the flow of milk and the laying of eggs. The present annual output of this product exceeds 600 tons. It is used in all the agricultural parts of France and is exported to Switzerland, Spain, Italy and Germany.

This industry originated in La Rochelle. Heretofore the non-edible fish found in the nets of the trawlers were thrown into the sea, but now they are brought to port as material for the fish flour plant. The fish flour is very rich in proteins and phosphates. It is mixed with feed for poultry, rabbits, dogs, sheep, cattle and hogs.

Her Tribute

A policeman on duty at the Cenotaph in London was surprised by a postman handing him a package addressed to "The Policeman at the Cenotaph, Whitehall, London." He found that it contained a bunch of wild flowers and a note asking the policeman to place them on the Cenotaph, as the writer was unable to travel so far to do so herself.

Try A Liner—They Bring Results

Made Pot of Sea Gull

John R. Stacey, a Marquette lobsterman, has done something that few other men have been able to accomplish, says the Boston Globe. He has won the confidence of a wild sea gull so that the bird will accompany him on his trips to inspect his traps and will even eat raw fish from his hands. This particular gull is jealous, too, as he drives away any other gull that seems inclined to make friends with Mr. Stacey.

Beating the Band

A Southern (Enc.) robin (write's a correspondent), faced by the competition of the Second Royal Scots band, still sang on determined to be heard. He attracted public attention and admiration. Finally, when the bandstand was illuminated, he put forth all his energy and continued to challenge the British gung until long after every other bird had gone to roost.

Monkey Lives With Pigs

Jack, a diminutive monkey, has been a regular inhabitant of a pigsty on the farm of W. H. McQuinn, near Hingham, Kansas, for three years. In that time numerous families of pigs have grown to hoghood under Jack's guiding care and have become expert "saddle hogs," with the monkey as chief jockey.

Cows Worth Having

The Mackenzie brothers farm of East Zorra, has a unique record for calves this spring, writes Mrs. Thomas Allan of Sombra, Ont. It has three pairs of twin calves from Durham and Ayrshire heifers. All the animals are progressing.

GOOD YEAR

Reshingle Once—For Your Lifetime

You can do that if you will use "CREO-DIPT" STAINED SHINGLES

Quality of shingles. Each shingle is sawed from selected cedar logs—not from forest waste; all parallel widths—no wedge shapes; thoroughly seasoned—not baked to death in dry kilns. Better shingles are not to be found in any market.

Quality of stain. Each shingle is thoroughly stained by a special factory process. Pure pigments are ground twice in pure linseed oil and carried deep in the fibre of the wood with creosote oil. The result is preservation of wood as well as soft-toned colors that do not fade or wash out in streaks.

They cost less than staining on the job.

Ask for quotation on "Creo-Dipt" Stained Shingles for inside walls as well as roof. Come in and choose your colors from our attractive stock, or phone and we will call with samples.
