

No Use Fishing Where There Are No Fish

The fellow who's after a full creel makes good and sure he hits toward a stream where experience of others has proved there are fish to be caught.

So --- the man or woman or child who knows what money really is worth doesn't spend it all as soon as he or she gets it. Some of each week's income goes into a savings account, where it earns more money and is safe from loss or theft.

We'll be glad to open an account for you!

NOVI TOWNSHIP SCHOOL NOTES

The teachers of Novi township welcome you to come and visit your boys and girls, and your school.

Patrons of Novi township, meet your teachers: East school, Mrs. Johnson; West Novi, Miss Papino; Stone school, Mrs. Jones; Putman school, Miss Peach; Chapman school, Miss Chamberlain; Novi town school, Miss Porter and Mrs. Hames; Superintendent, W. C. Hames.

The following people visited Novi school this term: Lucy Banks, Sommers Weeks of Novi; Irah McWilliam of Detroit; Mr. Crampton of Ypsilanti; Mr. Thompson of Novi, and Miss Ethel O'Connor of Pontiac.

Mr. Thompson gave a talk during opening exercises one Monday morning this term. Mr. Crampton gave a very interesting and educational talk on "My Visit to Alaska." Miss O'Connor, our helping teacher for zone one, told of the work that is being done in Oakland county to help the boys and girls. Miss O'Connor reports good work is being done in all the schools, and asks for the cooperation of all the parents, patrons and boys and girls.

W. W. Curtis, a former teacher of the Novi school, visited school one day last week. Mr. Curtis is a native of Texas, and expects to spend the year attending school in Ann Arbor.

In spelling contest held Tuesday of this week, among the fifth to tenth grade pupils, Marian Shinn a sixth grader spelled the school down. Three cheers for Marian.

Superintendent W. C. Hames visited the rural schools of the township one Friday this term. He plans to visit each school twice each month.

The teachers and several of the parents of the various schools are planning on organizing a Parent-Teachers' organization in each school in the district. Watch for later particulars.

Remember, it is just as easy to be a booster as a knocker—and let's more fun.

MRS. ALVIN T. HERT

Born on a southern Indiana farm, the teacher of a country school, the wife of a successful business man whose affairs she now manages, a farmer on her own Kentucky acres, an able business woman, but with all the charm and graciousness of a lady of the old school—such is Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, Vice-Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Mrs. Hert's headquarters are in Chicago, from which center she is broadcasting to American women first of all the message of their great responsibility. The women claimed that if given the vote they would make the United States a better place to live in. Mrs. Hert is urging all women not to be among the twenty-five million ballot slackers, but to go to the polls on Election Day and vote for what they believe to be the policies that will mean most in the lighting of human burdens, in the general welfare of all.

True, Mrs. Hert is a good Republican, but her messages breathe first of all the spirit of a humanitarian, coupled with the conviction that of all the agencies at hand the Republican party is the most effective one through which what women want—social progress, the greatest good of the greatest number—can be achieved.

Her political creed is summed up in the belief that the purpose of government is to "establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

It is hard to quarrel with such a creed unless one wants to find fault with the preamble of the Constitution of the United States!
