

WEAR, RUN DOWN AFTER SICKNESS

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Mrs. Dube Well and Strong

El Hartford, Conn.—"After a severe sickness I was so weak that I could not do my housework, so my mother told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The first bottle helped me so much that I took six more bottles and felt fine. I have just given birth to a nice baby girl and am feeling strong and well. So different from the way I felt before. I am taking the Vegetable Compound right along while nursing. The baby seems to be in good health, and my friends say they see a big change for the better in me."—Mrs. EUGENE DUBE, 69 Woodbridge Street, East Hartford, Connecticut.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine to bring back health and strength. Many mothers have found this true, as did Mrs. Dube. Ask some of your neighbors and friends, for there are women everywhere who know by experience the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Thanksgiving in the Holy Land

The average American has an idea that Thanksgiving is a national holiday peculiar to his country and celebrated because of proclamations issued by the President and by governors of states, whereas the feast of Thanksgiving is observed in many other countries. One of the many interesting observations of this feast is held by the Jews in Jerusalem, though it is celebrated in a very different manner from that we are accustomed to think of as Thanksgiving, says a writer in the Los Angeles Times.

While we here celebrate the day by discontinuing all business and giving up ourselves mostly to the Thanksgiving dinner, in the Far East the Thanksgiving is continued as a religious service for several days, though accompanied by much merry-making, during which all business is suspended. This ancient Hebrew people, clinging to the memory of their glorious past, drawn near to each other because of their common love for their peculiar traditions and for their "Torah"—their solace through the ages—gather in colonies at sites theirs by right through inheritance, though not claimed by them by the usurpers of their land. Driven through the centuries from country to country, persecuted for their religion and massacred by the injustice of radical prejudices, they now flock to their own country, selling all their possessions to pay the voyage, and come, to look upon the land where lived their patriarchs and prophets and to die and be buried on holy soil.

Three Great Festivities.

The three greatest feasts in which the Jew remembers his past and fulfills in all the details the old Mosaic law in the land, promised to Moses so many centuries ago, are the Passover, Tabernacles, and Pentecost. It is at the Feast of Passover that he offers the Paschal sacrifice in the temple in Mount Sinai, since upon its site stands a gorgeous mosque where only Israel bends the knee and bows the head in adoration to Allah and Mohammed. Yet there are times when the Jew in his own ancestral land rejoices in a festival for the grungest and the home, and there are no obstacles in the Holy Land to the fulfillment of every letter of the law in regard to this celebration. Settling care and business aside, he dons his hand-woven garb, and with a thankful heart he enters into a service which is all joyousness.

Celebrate in "Tabernacles."

The principal feature of this Feast of Thanksgiving is the dwelling in "tabernacles" or booths for seven days. Under a perfect blue sky, surrounded by the eternal "hills round about Jerusalem" amid ancient olive trees, or in desolate stony fields of wild stand the little Jewish colonies, each by each house its little "tabernacle" for celebrating the feast. Each colony has its own synagogue, and here the rabbi leads the congregation in the songs of thanksgiving; while the women prepare the festive meal to be served within the green booth. Here the family meet in deep happiness because they have been able to fulfill the command of Moses their "law giver" once again, and in the Holy Land.

The Feast of Thanksgiving commemorates God's goodness in the past to the Israelites in the wilderness. Their long wandering in the journey to the Promised Land is symbolized by their residence by day in these booths for the space of a week. This festival is also called the Feast of Ingathering. This thought is illustrated by the plants in the "succe" and by the branch with which it is built; also by the palms and willows and lemons which are brought into the synagogue and rejoiced over.

All the services are exceedingly picturesque and all the customs are surrounded by symbolical tokens and figurative acts and parabolic speech. For this ancient people belong to a past age when man clung to symbols, and rejoiced over.

His Fiery Steed

and to an oriental clime where all speech is flowery and filled with imagery. In this land, sacred by its wonderful history, mystic by its strange traditions, ancient, because the birthplace of soverable religions, where the city walls inclose beloved ruins, and the barren stony hills speak sorrowfully of what has been and is no more, there is something peculiarly touching and appropriate in the continuance of these old-time customs.

The furnishing of these "tabernacles" constrains a time of great amusement to young and old, for all members of the family take part in the rearing and decorating of this airy home within which the feast is to be celebrated. Some choose the large, open courtyard of the house; for the site of this temporary residence, while others prefer to build it on the flat roof of the house.

Time for Neighborliness.

The time for the rich is indeed widespread, and to the heart rarely attuned to the spirit of Thanksgiving it seems a far more lovely thing to read of their gifts of clothing and food, as they sit at the head of the table, and sorrowing, than to pore through their fine social doings in the society column. Although the Bible tells us it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than a rich man to enter heaven, we feel inclined to believe that exceptions will be made. In truth, the rich and poor are very close at Thanksgiving time, and all the rest of us who can just scrape along try to do our level best by the friends and neighbors who are less well off.—Chicago Daily News.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Caro—A new industry, The Coaster Wagon Company, has been organized here.

Lansing—The State Administrative board has decided to make the completion of trunk line highway M-23, across Leawee and Washburn counties, one of its major prison labor projects for 1925. Two prison camps are to be established along the route, probably this fall.

Grand Rapids—The establishment of "historical rooms" in each of the city's high schools, where records of Grand Rapids service men and women may be displayed, together with such relics as may be conveniently handled, is proposed by George A. Davis, president of the board of education.

Monroe—Broken glass from a mustard bottle, eaten in a sandwich, caused the death of Lawrence Doudrie, 37 years old, of Monroe. He is said to have mixed the glass accidentally with the mustard when he opened the bottle with a knife. Physicians said the glass had penetrated the heart.

Ionia—Fire of unknown origin started in the large woods at the extreme west end of this city. As a high wind was blowing, the fire spread rapidly and several homes were threatened. The woods are not far from the Michigan reformatory. Several hundred men turned out to assist the fire department.

Marquette—The first fatality of the hunting season in the upper peninsula was the death, from exposure, of Harold Knudson, of Michigan, whose body was found in the woods about 10 miles from Marquette. Coroner Prin said the condition of the body showed that Knudson died from exposure.

Lansing—Increases in the attendance at the Central State Normal School at Mt. Pleasant have made necessary a revision of the plans for a new library. It was reported to the State Administrative Board. The original plans for a $100,000 structure are to be discarded and new plans prepared for a building estimated at $173,000.

Lansing—The Devil's Bowl, a scenic sink-hole on trunk line M-10, near Alpena, is to be surrounded by a state highway for the benefit of tourists who wish to view the geological curiosity, and several other sink-holes in the vicinity may be set aside as state property according to plans tentatively adopted by the state administrative board.

Grand Haven—A new steel bridge has been opened to traffic here. This bridge, the largest in Michigan outside of Detroit, is one of the most important engineering feats of the state, a highway commission and in the connecting link for M-16 and M-11, two important trunk line roads. The structure cost $238,000, paid for jointly by the State and the city of Grand Haven.

Detroit—The Detroit and Windsor Ferry company has secured a contract to the Great Lakes Engineering works of Detroit to convert the day excursion steamer Britannia into an automobile and passenger ferry. It will ply between Detroit and Windsor. When placed in commission, about January 3, 1925, the new ferry will be able to accommodate 315 automobiles an hour.

Battle Creek—Announcement has been made that Henry M. Stegman and his wife, Dr. Louise V. Stegman, head of the eye department of the sanitarium are about to start a trip around the world visiting China, India, and other lands. The main objective will be Shikhar, India, where Dr. Stegman has been invited to do special clinical work in a "Mohammedan charitable hospital. She is the third American ever recorded this honor.

Lansing—A system of subways for pedestrians as an adjunct to the state highway system, was given tentative approval by the state administrative board. It was agreed generally by Governor Groesbeck and other state officials, that steps must be taken in the near future to protect life at points on the trunk line highways where both vehicular and pedestrian traffic are heavy. The most feasible plan, it was decided unanimously, is the construction of tunnels under the highways.

Lansing—After having fought through the World "without a search," Dr. Ernest Pozor, house physician at the Edward W. Sparrow hospital, suffered the loss of one eye in a freak accident here. Dr. Pozor was injured when an automobile he was driving struck a stray horse wandering on the road near Howell and the windshield was broken. A flying piece of glass struck Dr. Pozor in the eye, clipping the eyeball so badly that he immediately lost his sight. Physicians say they will save the sight of the other eye.

Valuable Cactus

What is said to be a desirable immigrant from southern Europe has arrived at the United States bureau of foreign seed and plant introduction from Nice, on the Mediterranean shore of France. It is a member of the cactus family, Cercus validus by name, and produces edible fruits of an excellent quality. The fruits are the size of a goose egg, in color, magenta red, and entirely without spines or prickles. This plant is really a returning American emigrant, for all cacti were originally American, and were not known in Europe until after the voyage of Columbus.

Important to All Women Readers of This Paper

Swamp-Root a Fine Medicine

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one a burden to those who love them.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many need for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by parcel post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Ring Oddly Restored

At Sullivan, Mo., C. C. Rose found a gold ring on the small end of a potato growing in his garden. The ring's story became known through its markings. More than fifty years ago Mrs. J. A. Dotter was visiting where Rose now lives. The ring was too large for her, and while helping to wash the dishes the ring came off. The dishwasher was thrown out into the yard, and although a diligent search was made, the ring could not be found.

Road Building Far Behind the Automobile

Millions now recognize the automobile as a necessity. It is no longer a luxury for the few. Sixty per cent of its use is for business.

Because of this the modern paved highway has become an economic necessity.

Yet although the mileage of Concrete Roads and Streets has been steadily increasing, our highway system today lags far behind the automobile. The great majority of our highways are as old as date as the single track, narrow gauge railway of fifty years ago.

Such a condition not only seriously handicaps the progress of the automobile as a comfortable, profitable means of transportation, but also holds back commercial, industrial and agricultural advancement in practically every section of the country. It is costing taxpayers millions of dollars annually.

Highway building should be continued and enlarged upon. Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support. Tell them you are ready to invest in more and wider Concrete Highways now!
