Get rid of constipation by internal cleanliness

HEADACHES, biliousness, sleepless mights, heaviness, are Nature's warning that intestinal poisons are flooding your system. If this is allowed to continue, you may become a victim of serious organic disease.

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constituation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Railroad's Lawyers

Evidently on Job

A man in Missouri sued a railroad company for damages because of the death of a hound killed on the track. The company defended liself upon the following points: 'Said dog was chusing a raibit upon dependant's track in violation of the defendants track in violation of the gime laws;

Field rabbit lived upon defendants right of vay, and was, therefore, the property of defendant;

Flaintiffs dog was a trespusser and was himiting on defendant's property without permission.

Field deceased was not much of a deg anyway, or he could have kept out of the way of defendant's trains,

Blind Girl Performs

Feat in Stenography

Feat in Stenography
A biling igit in London has just performed the remarkable feat of taking down a 40,000 book in shorthand and then transcribing it. The Braille system of shorthand was used.

The work was done by Miss Green during her spare time in the evenings, as she works in the National Institute for the Blind every day. Braille shorthand notes, of course, are fast written, in the ordinary manner of shorthand. They are typed on a special machine invented by an official of the Institute for the Blind.

There are only seven keys of Braille characters jon the machine and it it typed onto ribbon page and it it typed office in the machine in the institute. By this means the blind gall and accurately interesting them on an ordinary typewriter.

Good done is never lost.

They all came trooping out. My-tile sot up to fetch her own cloak, but Gerald detailed her. She stood by his side, bidding good night to his guests with him. The marquis frowed slightly as he made his addeux. The look in his eyes housted her of statuth and he was looking at ther strangely.

"You have been happy, Myrtile" Gerald asked, and his voice seemed to come from a long way off.

"You have been happy, Myrtile" Gerald asked, and his voice seemed to come from a long way off.

"Wonderfully," she hanswered. "I there is my cloak."

She moved toward the open door leading into Gerald's suite. She seemed, suddenly toro by a strange medley of sensations and memories. She saw Nadine pass through it, dispercied and indexeen, with that backward glance at Gerald which, even to her ignorance, seemed up. I subserved to her into the setting-room. Gerald followed, closing the door. The sound of the music came quietly. Myrtile felt suddenly faint.

"You are tirrell" Gerald exclaimed, beening analously over her.

She put her arms dround his neck like a child.

"Gerald," she whispered, take care of me. I am afraid. Be good to long Gerald followed, closing the door. The sound of that first kiss. Side by side with bert happiness came nound hie. "I am to remember, I suppose," Gernid said thickly, "that you were the varisty botting chaipling", (TO BE CONTINUED.)

Moslem Fast of Ramazan

Motiem Feat of Ramazan in the Moslem Breat Passion Sun day corresponds with the first day of the month-long fast of Ramazan. During Ramazan, vesitern customs, where they have been adopted, are ser aside, and the more primitive native minares revived. The unezin supplements his usual announcement of the bour of prayer with the exhoration: "Give food, O ye faithful, unto the orphan and the poor. the waysfarer and the boundman," and though the wealthy do not now, as in foighter days, stand at their doors and lighter the peedy to a well-laden table. Hamazan remains a time of peace, chairty and hospitality.
