Christmas Giving

Everybody makes Christmas gifts—perhaps one or two, perhaps many. We give for friendship, for affection—above all for remembrance. We want our gift to carry with it a thought of the giver—and to keep that thought alive as long as possible.

This is where electric home-using appliances are especially desirable for Christmas gifts—beautiful, useful, ever-welcome electric devices for the table, the living room, the library, the kitchen, or my lady's toilet. They keep the giver in remembrance the year round.

Choose no Christmas gifts till you have looked at the very attractive display of electrical home appliances in our salesroom. Come today, and come early. The days are flying.
