We expected to be swamped with answers to our Cross Word Puzzle Contest from the ladies but who knew that Lou Schroeder and Howard Russell were Cross Word Bugs—and they sneaked off with two of the prizes. Mrs. Leonard was only thirty minutes ahead of Lou Schroeder for 1st prize too.

We had to add another prize for the solution of Richard Cox. Richard was correct but late—however, he drew a pencil reproduction of the puzzle and then filled in the answers so neatly, and incidentally, without leaving out a single period for abbreviations, that we felt he should be rewarded for his industry.

Interest in this contest and the Christmas Club has been very keen. The Contest is over but the Christmas Club will be open for the balance of January.
