An exciting, elaborate doing will be the Exhibition of Table Settings and Flower Arrangements, titled "A Time for Flowers," to be presented by the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, District One, sponsored by the Charles W. Warren and Company, Detroit.

The presentation starts at Warren's on Washington Blvd., Wednesday, Sept. 18, continuing through Thursday and Friday, Sept. 19 and 20, from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. You need no other special invitation other than the one you just received here. Visiting the Warren Company is a treat in itself and with all this added fun and flowers, you just won't want to miss it.

Isn't this exciting around here every day of the week, but I know you just won't believe us. We do hope your stay has stored up some pleasant memories and that you will come back to visit us in Farmington again.

I MIGHT REMIND YOU that the Michigan Horticulture Society Harvest Festival, including the Judged Flower Exhibit is scheduled this week, Sept. 10, 11 and 12 in the Belle Isle Casino. There will be exhibits by Farmington area residents on which we will give you a rundown the following week.

THE MACKAYS, of Foxgrove, (James G. and Jean) had some comings and goings. After returning from their east coast (Kennebunk Port, Me.) vacation with their children, Roddy and Christopher, preparations were soon being made to entertain guests, the J.B. MacKays, of Oremed Beach, Fla. The J.B. MacKays are Jim's parents.

While the J.B. MacKays were at the Foxgrove address, Jim's aunt, Jean MacKay, arrived from Lanarkshire, Scotland. There were naturally questions asked to whether Aunt Jean found things as she expected on her first trip to the States. Jean answered that the reception Aunt MacKay received was most unusual. When the car she was in arrived in the driveway, a police car pulled up behind it. Evidently, the James MacKays had a woodchuck stuck in their patio and had called the police to rescue it. But, at the time, Aunt Jean didn't know this and was a little bewildered. Aunt Jean showed amazement of the many trees in the area. She just didn't expect so many trees in the States. Another exciting adventure for Aunt Jean was the fury of one of our great storms, during which the home on Foxgrove was struck by lightning. Oh well, Aunt Jean from Scotland, we could tell you that if.
