

Everyone Had Fun At Plymouth's Fall Festival

*Old Folks Enjoyed The Bandshell Events
Kids Loaded Up On All Kinds Of Goodies
Rotarians Kept Feeding More Than 13,000*

Tiny Sandra Denick, of Livonia, wandered off by herself to enjoy her ear of corn. She wasn't a bit disturbed by the looks of envious elders who wanted to but didn't dare eat corn.

Gayle Schultheiss proudly displays her kitten, Bob Cat, who won a blue ribbon.

Todd Butler, of Plymouth, just couldn't get enough watermelon — this shot shows what a watermelon lover can do.

Pancake has the attention of two-year-old Kenny Nicol who is fed by Papa Bob Nicol at the Kiwanis Club Pancake Festival.

Handling steaming ears of corn are Rotarians Earl Lundine (left) and Herb Chaiken assisted by youthful Gary Joyner.

Twins Joannie and Lori Mack had frozen cups on a hot afternoon.

What better entertainment at a Festival than Bimbo's Gaslighters?

Best original costume from the Gay 90's was that worn by Mrs. Dorothy McNamara who is shown receiving the first place trophy from Judge Mrs. Nancy Tanger. The dress and outfit dates back beyond the 90's.

PROUDEST MOM was Mrs. Daisy Proctor who is pictured with a son and daughter after receiving the blue ribbon for the best bouquet display in the farm products judging. That's Kathy holding a sign telling of the exhibit and Greg with some of the decorations that went into the entire exhibit.
