NOVI SCHOOL NOTES

The Novi school entertained the largest zone meeting of the year, at their regular zone meeting on Saturday February 21. In spite of the incessant rain many people turned out.

The morning meeting was spent correcting and grading reading papers, after which a lively discussion followed on how to improve the child's reading comprehension.

Many good suggestions were given. It was decided to work for better reading comprehension this month. At noon the meeting adjourned and all went to the Baptist church where a bountiful dinner was served by the Parent-Teacher Association under the supervision of Mrs. Taylor, chairman of the dinner committee. Many rousing songs were sung and a good time for all.

After dinner the afternoon program was held in the church. Miss Papineau, president of the zone, opened the meeting. Prayer was said by Mr. Thompson after which a short business meeting was held. The meeting was then turned over to Superintendent W. C. Hames, chairman of the program committee. Mrs. Thompson, president of the P. T. A., gave a word of welcome. Miss O'Connor gave a three-minute talk on zone work and its value. Mr. Thompson gave an interesting but short talk. George Lavelle spoke Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Mable Boone gave a recitation. Mrs. Shinn gave a reading. Mrs. Smith gave two very delightful songs. Mr. Leonard, Superintendent of Farmington, gave an address on the "Demands of a Democracy." Mr. Leonard is not only a very interesting speaker, but a good orator, and more important he gives you something to think about.

About 120 people attended, many were visitors from surrounding towns.

Many pupils were absent Tuesday, on account of attending the funeral of Homer Newbound. The boys and girls of the Novi school are going to send plants later in the season as a reminder of their regard for Homer.

Miss Ruth Porter, teacher in the lower grades, has had her name changed. She now answers to Mrs. Sturman.

Only three months of school is left this term.

Mrs. Erwin was a visitor at our school, last Monday. Rochester Erwin will speak in Novi on Thursday, February 26. His subject is, "America the Wonderland."

HOW TO SAVE YOUR CURRENT

You can economize in your electric lighting in three ways; first, by using lamps only when and where they are required; second, by using Mazda high efficiency lamps; third, by directing and conserving your light by means of suitable shades and reflectors.

There should be ample light at points where illumination is required often, as for reading, sewing, at the piano or the dressing table. Extra outlets for portable lamps or brackets make it unnecessary to light the whole room too brightly.

Heating appliances, such as percolator, toaster, flatiron, etc., should be disconnected the moment you are done using them. When you forget to switch them off, you waste current and perhaps injure the appliance by overheating.

With proper equipment and by avoiding waste, electricity can be employed in a wide range of household uses at small cost.
