EARLY LAYING PULLETS PAY BEST, INSTITUTE FINDS

The earlier she lays the quicker and longer she pays, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. In urging Michigan poultry raisers to push pullets to early maturity. Experiments show that the more rapidly a pullet comes into egg production the greater the number of eggs she will lay the first year.

The widespread belief that early laying stunts the body growth of the pullet is not borne out by tests, except in the case of a few individuals, according to the Institute. Data compiled recently shows that White Leghorn pullets which matured in less than six months laid 168 eggs during their first laying year, while pullets requiring seven to eight months to mature only laid 146 eggs. Pullets taking ten months to mature were even slower in egg production, the eggs laid totalling only ninety-three.

Early maturity of pullets may be hastened by the feeding of mineral elements including the little-known and less-used iron. The Institute states. The use of a mixture of one pound of sulphate of iron with one ounce of sulphuric acid in two gallons of water will generally result in unusual development in the growing stock. These should be mixed in an earthenware jar, thoroughly shaken and allowed to stand for a day or two. Before using it should be stirred and a half pint of the mixture used in three gallons of water used to fill the drinking vessels.

BANQUET DRAWS CROWD

The Mother and Daughter Banquet held last Wednesday evening at the Salem Evangelical Church hall was a decided success. One hundred and thirty mothers and daughters were the guests of the evening.

Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Ruth Evans accompanied by Mrs. Heberlein, and Miss Lenore Bruder accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Esch. Mr. Heberlein delighted the guests with a flute solo accompanied by Mrs. Heberlein who in turn played a very fitting piano solo. ## BESSIE FRANC BROWN WILL SPEAK AT M. E. CHURCH

Miss Bessie Franc Brown of China will speak at the Methodist Church on Sunday at all the services. After years of a most adventurous life in the mountains of China Miss Brown is in America for a brief furlough. The story of her life is like a tale out of a book of adventure. Above all she is a wonderful speaker. A group of Farmington high school boys who sang at Belleville recently where Miss Brown spoke were thrilled by her preaching. She comes to Farmington for one day, and her visit will be memorable. In addition to speaking at the regular service, hours Miss Brown will meet all young people at an informal lunch at 5:30.

MAY PRESS CLUB MEETING

The Oakland County Press club held its May meeting at Milford last Friday, where they were shown the many interesting sights of that attractive village, picturesquely nestling among the beautiful hills of western Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe, publishers of the Milford Times, had previously arranged for a visit to the new and extensive testing grounds of the General Motors Corporation, located a few miles west of the village. The publishers were met at the club house by O. J. Kreusser, co-ordinating engineer, superintendent of the grounds, who assigned them to various automobiles in charge of professional drivers and an exciting trip was taken over the several miles of roads laid out on the grounds, which comprise 1200 acres. Every possible condition of roads to be found in America are encountered in a trip over these testing grounds.

Perfect cement, gravel, dirt and rutty roads are there for testing machines. Grades as heavy as can be taken by the best of cars are provided in the "mountain climbing" to the hill peak, which is at an elevation of over 1200 feet. From that point a magnificent view is had overlooking Dade; Tuna In, a musical fantasy; Pleasant Valley, one of nature's picture spots of eastern Michigan.

An absolutely level one mile straight away road is provided for testing autos as to maximum speed. The speedometer on the car in which the editor of the Enterprise, rode registered 72 miles an hour.

At the business meeting of the club it was decided to hold an outing at Lake Orion, July 24.

FINE BILL AT ### TEMPLE THEATRE

Sylvia Clark, well known musical comedy favorite and "Blackface" Eddie Ross, with his African harp, divide headline honors on the bill at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre, starting Sunday matinee. Miss Clark needs no introduction to Detroit theatre-goers with whom she is a great favorite. "Greenwich Village Follies" was her last starring vehicle in musical comedy. For vaudeville she is presenting "Kavorting's Uneek" by Harry Delf and Bobbie Kuhn. "Blackface" Eddie Ross promises many laughs in his new monologue in which he airs his family secrets. Others billed: Karavoff and Company, a company of Russian dancers. Karavoff formerly climbing" to the hill peak, which is at an elevation of over 1200 feet. From that point a magnificent view is had overlooking Dade; Tuna In, a musical fantasy; Pleasant Valley, one of nature's picture spots of eastern Michigan.

DONT'S

You will get better service from your electric light if you pay heed to the following suggestions:

DON'T give lamp bulbs the final wrench when screwing them into the socket. This loosens the glass from its base and shortens the life of the lamp.

DON'T let dust gather on lamp bulbs. It will absorb as much as 50 per cent of the light. Wipe off with a soft, dry cloth.

DON'T use old, dim, discolored lamp bulbs. They waste much light and hurt the eyes. You can exchange them for new lamps, you know.

DON'T use any lamp bulbs bare. Use shades of glass, silk, or parchment to soften the light and save your eyes.
