

Would a Thief Get Your Valuables?

Keeping valuable papers, heirloom pieces of jewelry and other priceless possessions about the home where they are in constant danger of thieves, is such folly when you can, at so little cost, rent a safe deposit box, ample in size, to keep them in safety. If you have never been into our safety vault, take the time tomorrow to inspect it. Then you can see for yourself what a big measure of safety you may secure here.

CLASS OF '26 ORGANIZE FOR YEAR WORK

The Senior class of the Farmington High School with its thirty-five co-operative workers has started its last year in high school. Although the members are somewhat appalled by the thoughts of graduation, life work and college, they are enthusiastic over the planned Washington trip and are launching their program with a bake sale Saturday afternoon, August 3 at the Farmington Hardware. After this event will follow fast and furious, for we plan to raise our money as soon as possible to save all eleven hour lamentations.

The class consists of eighteen girls and seventeen boys, quite a few having gone through the freshmen, sophomore and junior years at this school.

The class has elected the following officers to guide it through the year and bring it to a successful close:

Mabel Mahaney, president.
James Quinn, vice-president.
Robert B. Cook, secretary-treasurer.

The class sincerely appreciates the support given it last year and looks for the same this year.

We, the class members, are working under the motto, "On To Washington."

Senior Class of '26.

L. O. T. M.

Libert, Commander, Elizabeth Cain.

Record Keeper, Leona Becker.
Finance Keeper, Minnie Goers.
Chaplain, Phoebe Myers.

Sergeant, Bertha Spaller.
Sergeant-at-Arms, Fay Ross.

Sentinel, Viola Schoeb.

Picket, Katherine Quinn.

Pianist, Mrs. Lewis.

Calvin, Florence Rankin.

Installation will be held Monday, October 19.

Don't forget the Senior Bake Sale at the Farmington Hardware Saturday afternoon, at 1 o'clock.

SCREEN STARS HEADLINE AT DETROIT TEMPLE

Clara Kimball Young, the internationally famous screen star, headlines the bill at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre starting Sunday afternoon. Miss Young appears in person in a delightful comedy playlet by Tom Barry entitled "His Adorable Wife." It is a bit of tragedy with unusual triangular situations, plenty of humor and is handled by Miss Young with a delicate yet thoroughly capable touch.
