aiding the crooks

Some of the causes of the present crime wave which is sweeping the country are no doubt the growing disregard by the so-called better element of society for the sanctity of an oath, contempt of court and thwarting of legal proceedings taken for the protection of society that may in any way chance to cause a personal sacrifice.

Such acts which are becoming more and more frequent give encouragement to the criminally inclined and embolden crooked criminal attorneys and their "fixers" in approaching witnesses for the people.

According to a news dispatch from Traverse City, a former mayor of that city tells of his refusing to identify a party arrested on his complaint for having stolen a diamond pin from him.

In the dispatch the ex-mayor is credited with saying:

"Before the case came up, word was sent to me that if, when I took the stand, I failed to identify the man I had caught for the police, my pin would be returned to me intact. Well, I wanted my diamond. It was worth more than $500. When the case was called, I did not identify the pickpocket. The case was dismissed, and I awaited results.

"Sure enough, my diamond was returned to me. It came to me through the mails. That closed the incident."

A short time ago a bank clerk at Detroit, a witness in a holdup case, was approached by a fixer and offered $1,000 if he would fail to identify a witness. He fell for the bribe and did exactly what the ex-mayor is said to have done—failed to identify the prisoner—but with the bank clerk this did not close the incident. He was criminally prosecuted.

AN OVERLOAD OF FREE SERVICE

We notice by the Michigan Investor that bankers are complaining that banks are being overloaded with free service.

Outside of the country newspaper business there is probably no other business that furnishes the public with so much free service as do the banks. Hundreds of small checking accounts are carried that are an expense and round advice on business matters is cheerfully furnished, patrons and others for which no charge is made. Many family and business troubles are smoothed out at the bank.

Both the banks and newspapers come in for more or less "cussing" for the reason that it is not always advisable to say "yes." In fact the refusal at times to say "yes" is the very best of service rendered the public generally.

THE GUNMAN LOOKS BEST IN THE MORGUE

The closing words of John Stege, captain of the Chicago Detective Bureau, in an address to his men urging them on to bitter warfare against criminals, should be printed in large letters on signs and one posted in each police and sheriff headquarters in the country. He said:

"And remember, gunman, sent to the morgue never are paroled and they never escape."

A FINANCIAL FIGURE WHO STANDS ALONE

According to the Manufacturer and News Bureau more than a billion dollars is now declared by statisticians to be the fortune of Henry Ford. The cash surplus and assets of his automobile plants alone total more than $600,000,000. What his fortune actually is nobody knows, probably not Mr. Ford himself. It has been built out of nothing other than an idea, within about thirty years. It was a better idea than anybody else had, and it has made him a financial figure who stands alone, the most conspicuous industrial genius the world has known.

SMITH AND DALE HEADLINE AT TEMPLE

Joe Smith and Charles Dale, with the Avon Comedy Four, headline the bill at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre, starting Sunday afternoon.

The Avon Comedy Four is one of the most popular bill-toppers in vaudeville. Smith and Dale adhere rigidly to their own type of fun, but have surrounded themselves with an array of malcontents including, Cooper Lawley, Trina, Jean Holt and Wallace Exams and the offering is entitled, "From the Battery to the Bronx," the second feature is Mile. Marguerite and Frank Gill, direct from the Paris boulevards and their vehicle is entitled, "Smart Songs, Steps and Styles." Last season they were dance stars with the "Music Box Revue," Edith Clifford, a comedienne pleasing to the eye and ear assisted by Mabel Leonard, pianist; Lytell and Fant, "Two Chocolate Cake Eaters;" Jack Princeton and Lillian Watson in a comedy skit by John F. Conner called "Too Late;" Boudini and Bernard, ultra acrobaticists; Siegel and Irving in feats of grace and strength; Madie Du Fresno and Evans Brothers offer "Dancers from Cleveland;" a Hal Roach comedy featuring Clyde Cook entitled, "Should Sailors Marry?" and the usual seven program.

FORD REACHES HIGHEST PRODUCTION

The Ford Motor Company reached the highest production peak in the records of the company Friday when 8,500 cars and trucks went off the assembly lines of domestic branches. Friday's record, however, is expected to be short-lived, for production will reach 8,500 daily before the end of the month, making possible a total output of approximately 200,000 for October, the greatest in Ford history.

This information was contained in a statement issued at the company's general offices here Saturday afternoon, which details the remarkable industrial accomplishment effected in producing the improved Ford cars and which at the same time definitely dispels all fictitious rumors regarding Ford production circulated since the new cars were announced.

"Less than sixty days after discontinuing its former style passenger cars the Ford Motor Company has brought the improved types into normal production in all its assembly plants throughout the United States," it was stated.

"The former type passenger cars went out of production in August during which month 4,616 passenger cars were produced.

"Because of the many changes and improvements made in the Ford bodies it was necessary to re-arrange departments in all assembly plants, install considerable equipment, and lengthen paint ovens to permit longer baking and an increase in the number of coats of paint given the cars. This was accomplished and production started in the plants early in September.

"Output of the improved cars increased rapidly and for the week ending September 19 the production total showed 22,376 cars and trucks.

"Since that time output has been growing steadily. During the last few weeks the company has been shipping through its branches to dealers more than 7,000 cars and trucks a day, the shipments increasing to the record reached Friday, October 16, when 8,165 cars and trucks were produced. This output will be increased to 8,500 a day before the end of the month. Production for October will run close to 200,000, a new high record.

"These figures assure the public that cars will be forthcoming in such large quantities from now on that deliveries can be made to customers without any great delay.

"Preparations for bringing in the new cars, which entailed the changing to all steel bodies, were begun months back, but the actual work of placing cars in production and bringing the output up to the normal average of more than 7,000 a day has all been accomplished within sixty days.

"Aside from the engineering work, the task of producing the improved cars involved in part, the preparation of tools for 8,291 new operations necessitating more than three million hours of work by expert toolmakers, complete changes of whole departments, the installation of 1,074 new machines in the Highland Park and River Rouge plants and in other manufacturing units, the designing and making of 893 new and different small tools totalling 75,800 pieces and the educating of thousands of men in making new automobile parts.

"The increase in production together with constantly expanding activities has brought employment in the Ford organization in the United States to a new high figure. At present the number of those employed exceeds 178,000."

Why Sounds Vary

Syllables ending in "ng" are the most difficult for human ears to grasp, while those with "s" "w" and "r" apparently are the easiest. These conclusions have been reached through recent scientific investigations, says Popular Science Monthly. In tests with a large audience in an acoustically poor auditorium, only 48 per cent caught sounds such as "ting" and "being," while from 90 to 100 per cent were right on sounds like "vis" and "yes." The sounds "d," "w" and "r" made a poor score.
