

Hudson-Essex World's Largest Selling "Sixes"

Quality Gave This Volume and Volume This Price

Quality has made Hudson-Essex for years the world's largest selling 6-cylinder cars. Without such volume, these prices would be impossible. And without increasing quality such volume would never be reached. That is why owners think of Hudson not in terms of the low price paid, but in the costly car qualities, performance and reliability which it continues to give long after price is forgotten.

M. S. C. TO EXHIBIT

AT CHICAGO SHOWS
Livestock from the herds of the Michigan State College will be entered in the competitive classes at the International Livestock Show in Chicago the last of the month, along with entries from Michigan farmers and from other states.

Many blue ribbons have been brought back from the International in former years by the college animals, and it is expected that the prestige of Michigan will be upheld again this fall. In addition to M. S. C.'s star string of horses, beef cattle, swine and sheep will be entered in the various classes.

Prominent Michigan breeders will also have entries in the competitive classes at the livestock show, giving the state full representation.

Signal triumphs scored by Michigan farmers in the competition of the International Hay and Grain Show in former years will be repeated this fall if predictions are carried out. The state's best growers of field crops have prepared their entries for the Chicago test. A special educational exhibit, featuring the agricultural opportunities of Michigan, will be shown at the Hay and Grain Show by the college, along with similar displays from many other states.

SAVE CHILDREN FROM INJURIES BY SAFETY PLAN

STATE POLICE VISIT RURAL SCHOOLS TO ORGANIZE JUNIOR PATROL AMONG SCHOLARS

Hope to Cut Down Total of Deaths From Auto Accidents

To diminish the tragic number of fatalities and severe injuries to children through traffic accidents is the aim of a state-wide campaign undertaken by the Michigan Department of Public Safety, of which the State Police is the principal unit. During the winter, when the troopers are not so much needed for highway patrol work, they will visit the rural schools in furtherance of this campaign.

There were nearly 14,000 children killed in traffic accidents last year in the United States and of this total Michigan furnished a large quota. A very large proportion of the accidents were outside the larger cities.

This safety campaign is a natural adjunct to the patrol work of the State Police in seeking to make the highways safe through arrest of reckless and careless drivers. It is being personally directed by Alan G. Straight, Commissioner of Public Safety, who has seen many instances of the sorrowful result of reckless driving.

Form Junior Patrol.

The work has been divided up between the various posts of the State Police and, as their duties permit, the troopers will be assigned to visit the schools, talk on safety matters and organize the "Safety Patrol." This patrol is to consist of pupils in the schools, designated by the principals, these being among the older children.

It will be the duty of the Safety Patrol to watch over the other children when at play and when coming to or going from school. Each pupil so designated will be furnished with an arm band in green.

Any member of the Safety Patrol who performs a meritorious act, such as saving another child from death or injury, will be awarded a distinguished service medal supplied by an automobile club. These will be similar to medals awarded soldiers for war time service.

The Safety Campaign.

The school talks will deal with dangers to be avoided by the children. They will be told of the perils incident to roller-skating on the concrete roads, coasting down hills, whichcross highways and other acts which imperil life and limb. Advice will be given to walk on the left side of the road so as to face oncoming vehicles and be in position to step off the road out of danger.

Enrollments cards, pledging the children to practice safety on the highways, will be distributed.

Captain C. J. Seward, in command of the law-enforced division, recently broadcast a highway safety talk from the radio station at Michigan State College.

FINGERPRINT LAW MADE EFFECTIVE

Detective Lyle W. Moras, a fingerprint expert attached to the headquarters of the Michigan State Police at Lansing, is now on a speaking trip which is taking him to every city, village and hamlet in the lower part of the state, explaining the provisions of the new state law relative to fingerprints.

Lieutenant H. E. Erickson, who is in charge of the department, recently made a similar tour of the upper peninsula.

The new fingerprint law which was enacted by the 1925 state legislature and which became effective the latter part of August, provides that all law-enforcing officers shall have fingerprints taken of every one arrested for a felony, and that they shall send copies of the prints to the State Police headquarters. There are a number of technicalities which the two officers also are explaining for the benefit of the local law-enforcing officers.

The new law has the endorsement of the Michigan Police Chiefs' association and they aided in obtaining its passage.

LAWLESS ELEMENT, ORGANIZES

Because of the achievements of the new Rhode Island State Police in closing up gambling places and disorderly road houses, as well as breaking up the whisky-smuggling business, strong opposition to the coming session of the legislature. Strong political forces are reported as against the troopers.

STATE FAIR POLICED

By order of Governor Alex. J. Groesbeck, a post of State Police has been established at the State Fair grounds in Detroit. The State Fair building now houses a large number of book-cars confiscated in the many seizures of smuggled liquor about Detroit.

HORTICULTURAL MEN TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Problems of Michigan's fruit crop will be discussed by the state horticultural society during its annual meeting, to be held at Grand Rapids from December 1 to 3.

Leading fruit growers of the state, members of the horticultural staff and students at the Michigan State College, and prominent speakers from outside the state are included in the announced program for the three day meeting. There will also be special exhibits of nursery products, spray machinery, insecticides, etc. according to H. D. Hootman, extension specialist at M. S. C. and secretary of the society.

London Water Pipe Long

Under the streets of London 150 miles of water pipes carry the water supply needed by that world metropolis. The water is driven through the pipes with a pressure of 750 pounds to the square inch. About 25,000,000 gallons of water per week are used. Thirty years ago about 6,000,000 gallons a week were all that were needed.
