Ways of Wrapping Christmas Gifts

Colored Paper, Ribbon, Cord and Seals Will Add to Attractiveness.

By MARTHA BANNING THOMAS

strong cord (if they are to go by purcel post) are not particularly beautiful, yet there is a certain pleasant look about them if they are properly used. Foorly and shabibly wrapped packages are a blot on the tidy character of the sender! Bedies cushing endless trouble to the postman and mail officials. But it is more the decorative side of packages to which reference was a first made. A little care and exactive many control of the sender is the sender in the sender is sender.

White tissue paper is always in excellent taste, with this can, be used various kinds of Japanese paper ribbon, This ribbon is string, dainty and lends itself to graceful knots and bows.
Don't combite too many colors an one package. There is an ort in this as well as other thines, Hed tissue paper looks well tied with gold cord; a weil as other times. Hell fissee paper looks well tied with pold cord; a black Christmas seal at the center of the how gives a durning effect. It is not always well to the your bows precisely on the top and middle of a concept, and even one side. Black ribbon used with red tissue paper is very effective, and poke in a sprig of holly at the bow.

Grap paper tied with red ribbon is tovely. Green paper is a trifle ordinary used with red ribbon; try green ribbon of a contrasting shade if you are red ribbon in the contrasting shade if you are red ribbon in the contrasting shade in the paper is a trifle ordinary used with red ribbon; try green ribbon of a contrasting shade if you are red ribbon in the paper is a trifle ordinary to the paper is a trifle ordinary or the paper is a trifle ordinary to the paper is a trif

Artificial Textiles

In Turin is offered for sale for the first time the new artificial wool the first time the new artificial wool and cotton made by a pipocess analagous to that which produces artificial silk in abundant quantities. The invention is the work of Italian experiments and Italian firms are ready to commercialize it as soon as its aventicialize it as soon as ready to commerciance it as soon as its practicelity has been proved. Ap-parently the first results are not wholly satisfactory, but researches are continuing in the Rossi textile works and other factories. Should they prove successful, the result might be a profound alteration in the currents of world trade. Most of the raw materials of the new insention can be obtained in Italy which may thus become largely in-dependent of American and Egyp-tian cotton producers and of the English shepherd.

Mention of Christmas

Mention of Christmas
The first neution of christmas in ilterature occurs in the second chapter of the Gospel according to St. March thew, first verse. That is a simple mention of the birth of Christ. During the first centuries of the Christian era, there was no written record of observance of Christmas.—Georga

Do You Fear Lightning?

In the last five years 10 persons in Massachusetts were killed by lightning, or 1 out of every 1,013, 570 during the year. Dr. Arthur Gilbert, that state's commissioner of agriculture, points out the danger of agricuture, points out the uniga-from speeding autos is several thou-sand times greater, but the doctor's survey shows that you are 10½ times as, safe from lightning in a city as you would be in the country. because steel and frame buildings trolley wires and so forth draw much electrical energy out of the at-mosphere while a storm is brewing. However, he adds that a farmhouse properly rodded is as safe as a city dwelling during a thunderstorm.— Capper's Weekly.

Women Rule Town
