SET FOR FARM WEEK

A new feature in Farmers Week programs at M. S. C. has been announced by Prof. O. E. Reed, head of the college dairy department. In addition to the various association meetings and general conferences held during the week, the dairy department will hold a series of early morning gatherings for dairy men.

Lectures on various problems of the industry will feature these meetings, which will be planned to be of interest to any dairyman, regardless of his association membership or breed preference. The regular schedule of association meetings and general conferences for the week will, of course, go ahead as usual later in the day.

Among the more than thirty agricultural associations and groups which plan annual meetings at M. S. C. during the Farmers Week, February 1-5, are the Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein and Brown Swiss dairy clubs.
