Chapel to install organizing pastor

Rev. Douglas Lee Klein will be installed as the organizing pastor of Grace Chapel, an outreach church of Ward Evangelical Presbyterian Church of Livonia at 4 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 12. Grace Chapel began services last fall.

Tots registration opens for co-op's nursery term

Farmington Co-op Preschool nursery is accepting applications for the 1984-85 school year. The nursery, 23301 Halsted Road, offers sessions for children from 2 years and 9 months up to 5 years of age.

The youngest group meets 9:30-11:30 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays from $20 per month.

The others have an option of morning or afternoon sessions Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for $30 per month.

The school operates on a ration of five youngsters for each adult in attendance.

Kathy Post is membership chairman for the nursery this year. She will take inquiries at 478-5905. The telephone number at the nursery is 477-8020.

search a site upon which to build. The youth minister search committee is interviewing for a youth director to serve in a part-time capacity. This position will become a fulltime position in 1985.

Rev. Klein received his degree in speech with a radio and television emphasis from Westminster College in 1978. During his last two years of college, he served as a student assistant at Polaski United Presbyterian Church.

American independence

John Adams obtained recognition of American Independence from The Netherlands April 19, 1782, before the Treaty of Paris was signed Sept. 3, 1783. Thus we have enjoyed 200 years of commerce and friendship with The Netherlands, the first country to send the U.S. an envoy. Quakerstown Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution encourage all to observe February as American History Month.

He worked with the youth, preached occasionally and presented a weekly children's sermon.

IN 1980 he received his master of divinity from Gordon Cornwall Theological Seminary in Massachusetts. He was then called by First Presbyterian Church, Turtle Creek, Pa. In the industrial community near Pittsburgh, he initiated a cable-TV ministry and organized the Turtle Creek Youth Network, ministering to the young people of that community.

It was in the Turtle Creek church that Rev. Klein met his wife, Carol. They have one daughter, Jennifer.

Dental care part of health care

Americans, more than ever, are working hard to stay healthy and fit. They are exercising, watching their diet and finding out more about what it takes to stay healthy.

But many of those health-conscious Americans separate their dental care from their total health care. To them, dental care means having a bright, pretty smile.

Teeth and gums, like other parts of the body, are susceptible to disease. One dental disease which is prevalent among adults, although it can occur at any age, is periodontal disease, the major cause of tooth loss in adults.

The American Dental Hygienists' Association recommends you inspect your mouth for the following signs of gum disease:

- Bleeding gums when brushing teeth;
 - Red, swollen and tender gums;
 - Loose or separating permanent teeth;
 - Change in the way dentures and partials fit;
 - Bad breath;
 - Change in the way teeth fit together when biting.
- Gum disease can be prevented. Brushing and flossing thoroughly at least once a day, eating well-balanced meals and limiting snacks, visiting your dental hygienist and dentist on a regular basis, and checking for any signs of gum disease are important in preventing gum disease.
