

Mini-world wonders

Miniature floral artist Marvel Stieger of Farmington will be one of many exhibitors who will participate in the exhibit and sale from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Sunday at the Northwest YWCA, 25940 Grand River, Redford Township. Some of the features will be a display of ornate 19th century San Francisco-style doll houses. Stieger will offer kits of floral arrangements appropriate for mini-room settings. Other dealers and artisans will have displays for the beginner and advanced collector. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12. Children under five will not be admitted, but babysitting at 50 cents an hour will be offered.

Retirement preparation is club topic

Using leisure time and deciding whether to relocate during retirement are the two major topics that Ruthan Brodsky and June Yackness will cover during their presentation for the Business and Professional Women's Club of Northville.

Brodsky and Yackness, of Brodsky & Yackness, Associates, have had extensive experience in strategic planning and are nationally recognized authorities on organizational structure and management training. Their expertise in planning for retirement addresses such areas as career changes, psychological aspects of retirement, coping with physiological changes, relocation, use of leisure time, and coping with aging parents. They also counsel businesses and institutions which are establishing retirement counseling programs for employees.

The presentation will take place at 6:30 p.m. Monday, April 23, in the Mayflower Hotel, Plymouth. For reservation information call Brodsky, 641-0233, or June Mahler, president of the Plymouth Club at 851-9004.
