Live outdoors, indoors

How often have you admired the lush greenery outside your window and wished you could bring it indoors? Impractical? Not at all. One of the new trends in home remodeling is the creation of the solar room, sun room or Florida room. These environments provide economical alternatives to heating and at the same time give you a unique room. With its open feeling, this room provides you with one way of bringing the outdoors in. The change of seasons will give you a new look throughout the year, from the changing color of the trees in fall to the fresh green softness of spring. Nature provides the perfect backdrop for this cool, lime-green sofa grouping from Ethan Allen. Touches of life were added to the room with flowering plants, green hanging baskets, cut flowers and fresh fruit bowls.
