Grant supports reference hotline

Kresge Library at Oakland University received a $51,440 grant from the Oakland County Library Board to support the Oakland County Reference Hotline.

The service allows county libraries to call Kresge Library with reference questions. The grant goes through December.

The hotline service has been in operation since 1972 and handled 11,829 inquiries in 1983 alone. Director of the current grant is Sharon Bestick of Kresge Library.

Blood pressure control classes set at Botsford

High blood pressure is a chronic health problem. That means it does not go away. However, with managing diet, medication and lifestyle, high blood pressure can be controlled.

Botsford General Hospital will be offering their next series of Blood Pressure Control classes beginning Tuesday, May 8. The class meets four consecutive Tuesdays from 7-9 p.m. in the Administrative and Education Building of Botsford General Hospital, 28050 Grand River. Call the Health Promotion Center at 471-8099 for registration.

A June wedding is planned.

Public forum aims to make life better for older adults

Senior citizens of southeastern Michigan will share a day of exhibits, workshops, lunch and entertainment Wednesday, May 9, in Madonna College, Livonia. A health care hearing, attended by staff members from state legislator's offices as well as Wayne County commissioners and state legislators, will enable the elderly to express their concerns.

"Making Life Better" is free and will address the needs of older people in the '80s. Sponsored by Madonna College along with Schoolcraft Community College, this program is open to seniors, their families and anyone interested in the health and welfare of older people. Workshops will focus on such issues as defensive driving, nutrition, exercise, money matters and Medicare. The Smithsonian Institutes' bicentennial pictorial exhibit on older people will also be on display.

This program will take place in the Activities Center beginning at 9 a.m. Seniors may bring their lunch or order lunch which costs $2.50. Beverages will be provided. All persons attending should pre-register by May 1, and advise if purchasing lunch.

For registration, contact Madonna's gerontology department at 591-5096, or Schoolcraft's community services department at 591-8400. Madonna College is located at the intersection of I-96 and Levan Roads in Livonia.

CARPAL TUNNEL SYNDROME

All pains in the hand are not due to arthritis. Carpal Tunnel Syndrome is a case in point. One of the main nerves of the hand travels down the middle of the forearm towards the palm in a groove, called the Carpal (wrist) Tunnel. When pressure occurs around this tunnel, the nerve is likely to be compressed. Such nerve irritation results in a feeling of pain or numbness in the palm side of the hand, particularly in the thumb, second and third fingers.

Arthritis is one of a number of conditions that cause compression on the Carpal Tunnel. The reason is that arthritis can involve not only the joints, but surrounding tendons as well. If tendon involvement has occurred in the forearm, the swollen muscles may press upon the groove that carries the nerve and so bring on the Carpal Tunnel Syndrome.

In most instances when you come in with hand pain, your doctor can identify whether Carpal Tunnel Syndrome is the likely cause of if the problem is due to an arthritis. Making a diagnosis is important, as the treatment for each cause is quite specific.
