24 youths win books

Twenty-four area youngsters wound up their celebration of National Library Week with gift certificates they will be cashing in at Children's Bookshop in Applegate Square. The gift-certificate holders are winners in the two libraries' "Bookmark Contest" and photo copies of the winning bookmarks are now on display in each of the libraries.

The originals are being printed on colorful paper and will be handed out to library patrons about mid-May.

is, Michael Hoard, Scott DeMa and Jason Zdyrski. Third-prize winners are Jessica Roemer, Phillip Giovannini, Ryan Cahill and Kris Soper.

In the Farmington Hills Branch contest, first-prize winners are Meg Wolff, Sherri Lynn Richardson, Todd Stone-man and Cathy Westberg.

Coming in for second-place prizes are Katie McGillis, John Morell, Lisa Handziak and Beth Plezia. Third-place went to Melissa Jones, Julie Benson, Melanie Downie and Laurel Schwartz.

The 24 winners were chosen from bookmark designs submitted from 260 area youngsters. Designs on the book-marks depicted what the children liked best about the libraries, books and reading.
