New Morning announces new program for fall

New Morning School, a state-certified pre-kindergarten through fifth grade school in Plymouth Township, will be offering an early primary class for 4-5-year-olds next fall. This class will meet September through June and be taught by Marilyn Romack. The cost is $101.50 per month. Romack said, "This class is for children who are ready for a kindergarten experience. On an individual basis older 4-year-olds will be accepted into the program. This class will provide a good base for your child's future schooling.

"With a small class size, limited to 12 children, and lots of individual attention, each child will work on skills at his or her own level. Each child will be challenged while having a positive, school experience."

FOR A "young 5-year-old or one with a fall birthday, this program might serve as a transition year, or the first of two kindergarten years.

A full-day kindergarten experience is also available. Five-year-olds who attend full days are part of the elementary classroom in the morning and join the early primary class in the afternoon. Parents with a 4-year-old who are seeking a full-day program might desire a preschool morning and the early primary class in the afternoon. Extended hours are available.

Each child's program will be individually planned. Ample opportunity for play, role-playing, socialization and experiential learning will be combined with the introduction of academic skills in math and language arts.

Music, French and computer instruction will be included as well as cooking arts and crafts, movement and rhythm activities.

Appointments can be made to visit the school in session by calling Elaine Yagella, director, at 420-3331. Openings for full classes are still available in the preschool and grades K-8.

The non-profit school is located at Haggerty, just north of Schoolcraft Road in Plymouth Township.

Proud director marches

Band conductor Douglas McQueen said he will be "marching proudly beside" his great marching band "when North Farmington High School's marching musicians parade down Grand River Monday.

The contingent will be led by drum majors Tom Black and Jessica Foner, followed by majorettes Beth Notemann, Shauna Hill, Lynn Bodnar and Ann Campbell. All of the band's auxiliary units and flag bearers will be out for the Memorial Day parade that marches west on Grand River beginning at 10 a.m. from east of Orchard Lake Road.

The marching bands from all three high schools will be among the units that form the parade which precedes the memorial services at the Veterans Monument at Oakland and Grand River.
