You beat a team once and they get revenge on their minds. You beat them a second time and, well, you kind of take the life out of them.

That's more or less the story with the Catholic Central-Birmingham Brother Rice tennis war this season.

Co beat Rice in a dual meet 4-3. The matches were mostly close thresecters. Then, at the regional moet at West Bloomfield, it again came down to Rice and CO. Co gain pervalled. When the two squared off for a third time last weeken at the Catholic League meet, Catholic Central was able to breeze past the Warriors.

"After we took them in the dual and regional, they kind of lost the heart for it," said CC ceach Frank Garlickt. "You can see by the scores that the matches weren't that close points to Rice's 15. The other far teams were far back. The championabip flight pitted CC against Rice in every match.

Dan Walsh, Rice's No. 1 singles player, best 70m Spade, 6-1, 6-4. It was the only winner for Rice.

CC's Mark Egnatics, Phil Eggleson and Bob Martin won in No. 2, 3 and 4 singles, respectively. CC swept the three doubles matches.

The win carned CC its fourth Catholic League title in the past 14 years.
