SUMMER ON THE WAY, and the outdoor concert season has begun.

Throughout the metropolitan area, from suburbs to downtown Detroit, jazz and pop concerts are stirring appreciative audiences. Singers and other jazz-band fans especially like the P'Jazz series, which opened its 13th season Wednesday at Detroit's Hotel Pontchartrain and Summer Nights, which opened its third season Friday at the Troy Hilton Inn.

Cocktails and charcoal-grilled snacks are served up at both locations, along with the music.

The Meadow Brook Music Festival goes into its 21st season, with Friday Variety Series and a Saturday Variety Series of big-name entertainment by vocalists and musicians. (The classical series opens the season Thursday, June 21.)

Early arrivals can picnic on the lawn before the concert begins. During the concert, there's the comfort and assurance, plus good sight and sound, provided by pavilion seats. Lawn seats offer relaxation in a romantic setting, at bargain prices.

OTHER MEADOW Brook attractions include stars featured at concerts not on series' schedules. Wayne Newton will perform Monday, July 9; Shena Easton, Tuesday, Aug. 21; Elvis Costello, Friday, Aug. 24; and Jean-Luc Ponty, Sunday, Aug. 26.

The Micholob Concert Series at Pine Knob in Clarkston began its 133th season May 25. Pavilion and lawn seats are available for some of the hottest attractions on the current music scene. Tickets are on sale at Ticket World outlets.

Music in the park, with guests seated at tables or on the lawn, opened a second season last week at New Center Swings in Detroit's New Center Park. The metro area's top musicians play in a mid-amphitheater at the free concert series.

The 15-concert season continues 5-8 p.m. Thursdays through Sept. 6. Food and drink is served on the Normandie Terrace.

Local communities also sponsor free outdoor concert series. Birmingham's In the Park family concerts are at 7:30 p.m. Thursdays in Shain Park. All kinds of musical entertainment is featured on the series, which opens tonight with the Birmingham-Bloomfield Symphony Orchestra and closes Sept. 6 with the Marcus Belgrave Jazz Sextet and Revue.

THE FEEL OF the outdoors is provided indoors at a new Garden Party series, which began Wednesday, at the atrium of the Prudential Tower Center in Southfield. The free concerts presented by Diamond Jim Brady's will continue 4:30-8 p.m. each Wednesday throughout the year. Drinks and hors d'oeuvres are available amid the musical, cocktail-party atmosphere.

The opener, the Jim Damburg Duo, is June 13. Other attractions are to be announced.

The Detroit Concert Band is still soliciting donations, in hopes of getting its 40th outdoor concert season funded. The free concerts will include one sponsored by Ford Motor Co. on Thursday, June 28, in Livonia, and later in the season in Redford.

DADS, BASEBALL, APPLE PIE AND THE HOLLY HOTEL

Dad deserves a special treat on Father's Day so take him to the nostalgic and elegant Victorian joint of the Historic Holly Hotel. In keeping with our tradition of classic and creative cuisine, the kitchen of apples, melons and fruit, we have prepared a special menu for Dad which includes: Buffalo, and apple pie.

Announcing the Father's Day performance of "Punchin' Up the Band," The Great American Musical Revue, will give Dad the chance to win a Free Tour Baseball Cap and Autograph Convention for four for the Father's Day Show. Dad wins a complimentary ticket to the show by purchasing a Father's Day Dinner or Lunch from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Reservations Recommended.
