Board OKs finance committee

The Walled Lake Board of Education has approved formation of a finance committee.

Its purpose is to "advise and inform" assistant superintendent for business Patrick Donohue.

The committee is a scaled-down version of the original proposal. It will not include two community member participants.

"I'm disappointed the two community members were laid off," commented board member Ronald Sevold. "And I'm having second thoughts about the scaled sessions."

When presented last month, it was proposed that there be no audience participation nor involvement in the finance committee, nor would there be any public notice of the meetings.

However, in an amendment forwarded by board member Patricia Jackman, the agendas and minutes of each finance committee meeting are to be provided to all board members.

Jackman also stipulated that a time frame be established for reviewing the minutes of the committee.

ALTHOUGH the board members will be given copies of the agendas and minutes, the finance committee meetings apparently will not be open to the public. Because only three board members (not a majority) will be serving on the committee, the state Open Meetings Act does not require that the meetings be open.

As approved by the board, the committee will have seven members — three board members and four administrators. Along with board treasurer Ronald Sevold, board president Bonnie Venzke appointed herself and trustee Kenneth Tucker to serve on the panel.

OTHER COMMITTEE members include Superintendent Don Sheldon, supervisor of accounting/purchasing Paul Martini and one additional administrator to be appointed by Sheldon and Donohue.

"I have a problem with the three-four split (of board members and administrators)," trustee Merlin Reeds said.
