

Send someone up the River
with Jacques Cousteau.

Sweep your friend out to sea
with Bob Fisher.

Take a swing through an entire baseball season.

Examine Italian food specialties up close, without putting on weight.

Find out why so many people are living in the white house.

Investigate the glory of an old-fashioned Christmas at Williamsburg.

Jacques Cousteau's Amazon Journey
Oceanographer Jacques Cousteau recently completed an 18-month investigation of the Amazon River. This book is a wonderfully readable narrative of that adventure. It also includes approximately 250 color photographs providing an unprecedented view of this fascinating region.
$40.00

Renoir: His Life, Art and Letters
This richly illustrated volume traces Renoir's brilliant artistic career, from his early struggles to create a new art that matched his personal visions of light and warmth, to his triumphant later years.
$67.50 until January 1st.
$75.00 thereafter

Baseball
From the blustery days of Spring Training, through the victories and slumps of mid-season, clear through the World Series, these close-up color photographs speak volumes to anyone who has ever watched or played the National Pastime.
$35.00

Cartier
The fabulous story of this legendary firm is told as never before, with the help of never-before-published photographs and working sketches.
$50.00

Glass by Galle
The best of Galle's art is illustrated in this volume. It contains illustrations of more than 250 exquisite works, from the classically shaped early work, to the multi-colored naturalistic designs of his later output.
$40.00

Wildlife Adventures with a Camera
Behold a breath-taking vision of a vanishing world in this volume of over 250 color photographs of animals, landscapes, and plants.
$45.00

Africa Adorned
This is the first book to ever document and describe the brilliantly colorful clothing array of the African tribes. It surveys every major tribal style, and every material used.
$45.00

Museum of Modern Art,
New York
This is the first major book on MOMA to be published in 30 years. It is also the only book to ever give a comprehensive overview of the Museum's entire collection.
$65.00

An Old-Fashioned Christmas
From the elaborate celebrations mounted at Colonial Williamsburg to the simple, down-to-earth re-creations at the Conner Traylor Settlement in Indiana, this delightful book describes the Yuletide festivities of yesteryear all across America.
$22.50

Rock Stars
Enhanced graphically by a series of extraordinary photographs made by top rock-and-roll photographers, Rock Stars examines forty-one "rockers of the flame" of rock and roll.
$35.00

Great Yacht Races
Bob Fisher, the renowned yachting correspondent and highly experienced sailor, has joined forces with the world's leading sailing photographer to capture within this book the beauty and drama of the great long-distance yacht races.
$45.00

White By Design
More than ever before, people are choosing to live with white because it offers relief from the visual bombardment of everyday life. White defines form, accentuates detail, clarifies space, and enlivens light. White By Design focuses on how this is done in white rooms and white houses.
$35.00

Giuliano Bugialli's Food of Italy
The classic Italian cuisine is represented here by 125 recipes prepared especially for this book by Bugialli. In a charming, informative text, Bugialli shares stories about each of those recipes, and about the growing, harvesting, and preparation of the ingredients.
$45.00

bookpeople
Orchard Mall • West Bloomfield •
851-8150
Mon. - Fri. 10-9, Sat. 10-6, Sun. 12-5