community calendar

● PALS

Monday, Jan. 14: Testing of 4- and 5-year-olds to qualify for PALS (Potentially Able Learners), an enrichment program sponsored by Farmington Public Schools, continues through Jan. 18. Persons wishing to have their child tested can make an appointment by calling Fairview Early Childhood Center, 626-8335.

● BLOOD PRESSURE SCREENING Monday, Jan. 14: Blood pressure screening and follow-up are offered from 1-4 p.m. in Botsford Hospital's Education Center, Classroom C, 28050 Grand River, No charge.

● 'PIANO IMPROVISATION'
Monday, Jan. 14-21: "Piano Improvisation," lecture and demonstration for those of general musical interest and in particular to planists wishing to improve their improvisational skills, at 7:30 p.m. daily in Farmington Hills Branch Library, 32737 12 Mile. No charge, but reservations are requested by calling the library, 553-0300.

'LIFE AFTER MOTHERING'

Monday, Jan. 14: "Life After Mothering," work-shop led by Dr. Judith Goren from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in Farmington Community Center, Farming-ton Road north of 10 Mile. Reservations, at $20 each, taken in the center.

• G.E.D. TESTING

G.E.D. TESTING Monday, Jan. 14: Registrations taken for G.E.D. (General Education Diploma) testing from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, through Jan. 31 in Clarenceville School Board office, 20210 Middle-belt. Fee of $10 required at time of registration.

● PRESCHOOL ART

Monday, Jan. 14: Students in Farmington Co-Op
Preschool show their art in Farmington Hills
Branch Library, 12 Mile Road, east of Farmington
Road. Display remains through Jan. 30.

SYMPHONY AND LUNCH
 Tuesday, Jan. 15: Registration deadline for Detroit Symphony Coffee Concert followed by lunch in Renaissance Center when bus leaves Orchard Ridge Campus, Oakland Community College parking lot at 9 a.m. Friday, Feb. 1. Package price is 232. Reservations taken in Farmington Community Center, on Farmington Road, north of 10 Mile Road.

ADULT EDUCATION

Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 15, and 23: Registration for all adult education classes offered by Clarenceville School District 7-8:30 p.m. each night in Clarenceville High School Jobby, Middlebelt Road between Seven and Eight Mile.

'COOKING WITH A BLENDER'
 Tuesday, Jan. 15: 'Cooking With a Blender,' lecture and demonstration by Judy Antishin, who creates dishes utilizing the blender, at 10 a.m. in Farmington Community Center. Fee is 110 with inperson registration in the center on Farmington Read north of 10 Mile.

● "SELF-AWARENESS
THROUGH LOSS"
Tuesday, Jan. 15: "Self-Awareness Through Loss," workshop led by Lynda Clark designed for the survivor of a traumatic event which alters a Ille style at 7:30 p.m. in Farmington Community Center, Farmington Road, north of 10 Mile. Fee is 47 with in-person registration in the center.

● PRAYER BREAKFAST
Tuesday, Jan. 15: Farmington Area Jaycees annual Prayer Breakfast begins at 7:30 a.m. at Glen Oaks Golf Club, 13 Mile, between Orchard Lake and Middlebelt. Breakfast speaker is John Gross of WXYZ-TV. Reservations are $7, taken by Larry Greg, 471-7150 during business hours, or 553-0077 in the evening.

 'SWEATSHIRT APPLIQUE' Wednesday and Friday, Jan. 16 and 18; 学校证法校选作品公司的 在经营

The Bouquet

3525 Brookside Drive, P.O. Box 844

Bloomfield Hills

Special

Let us help you plan your wedding! Special-ists in Bridal Flower Arrangements, silk and fresh, for church and reception.

Blizabeth Farah 646-3155 The Court of the C

GIVE.

There's no place like home.. when it comes to recuperating

*RNs *LPNs *Humemakers * Home Health Aides 644-9131

Michigan Afilliate, from noon to 5 p.m. in Bonaven-ture Roller Rink, 24505 Halsted. Entry forms avail-able in the rink.

LEISURE CLASSES
FOR YOUTH
Monday and Thursday, Jan. 21-24: Leisure activity classes for youth begin Monday in Engle Elementary School and Thursday in Flanders and Larkshire Elementary Schools aponaored by Farmington Hills Parks and Recreation Department. Brochures and registration forms available in the Parks and Recreation Department, 31555 11 Mile. Registrations taken on first-come, first-served basels.

● 'SCOUTING'
Tuesday, Jan. 22: "Scouting," open house hosted by Boy Scout Troop 230 for all boys between 11-18 years and their parents to learn about camping, hiking, skiing, conservation and wildlife management, and other activities scouling has to offer at 7.30 p.m. in Orehard United Methodist Church, 30450 Farmington Road.

WEDDING ETQUETTE: Tuesday, Jan. 22: "Wedding Etiquette," program led by wedding consultants Paula Kempton and Carol McCarthy at 7:30 pm. who tell how to handle the planning with ease in Farmington Community Center, Farmington Road north of 10 Mile. Regis-trations at 17 each taken in the center.

machinite UIL-TING
Tuesday, Jan. 22: Five session class, "Quick and Easy Sewing Machine Quili," gives Instruction in patchwork, quilt construction, and hand and machine quilting, beginning at 2 pm. in The Magic Needle, 53125 Grand River, Pereregistration is necessary by calling the shop, 471-1077.

● CHORUS AUDITIONS
Tuesday, Jan. 22: Audilions for singers to join Farmington Community Chorus' 1985 season begins at 7:39 p.m. in North Farmington High School's chorus room, 23900 is Mile Road. Chorus is directed by Jim Whitten and sponsored by Farmington Hills Department of Special Services.

'WEDDING ETIQUETTE'

MACHINE QUILTING

"Sweatshirt Applique," one-session workshop be-gins at 2 p.m. Wednesday and 11 a.m. Friday in The Magic Needle, 35125 Grand River. Registration taken by calling the shop, 471-1077.

● SUCCESS IN BROADCASTING Wednesday, Jan. 16: "Succeeding in Broadcast-lng," program led by Vicki Marion of Spees How-ard School of Broadcast Arts, designed for young adults considering a career in this field at 7 p.m. in Farmington illils Branch Library, 32737 12 Mile. No charge.

BAND BOX WORKSHOP

Thursday, Jan. 17: Participants create a band box in three hour workshops which begin at 12:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. in Farmington Community Center. Registration information given by calling the cen-ter, 477-8404.

CHAMBER LUNCH
 Thursday, Jan. 17: Michael Glusac, director of rounding the failure for Chrysler Corp., is the after-luncheon speaker for Farmington-Farmington Hillis Chamber of Commerce meeting which begins at moon in Farmington Hollday Inn. Reservations at $10 each taken by calling the chamber, 474-3440.

MODELING
 Saturday, Jan. 19: Modeling techniques taught from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. by Marlene Coffey in Farmington Community Center, Farmington Road, north of 10 Mile. Fee is $30 with in-person registration in

• INSULATED SHADES
Saturday, Jan. 19: One-session workshop teaches how to create "Warm Window Insulated Shades" at 10:30 a.m. in The Magic Needle, 35125 Grand River. Preregistration is necessary by calling the shop, 471-1077. Workshop repeated Jan. 26.

'SNOOPY'

• 'SNOOPY' Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 19-20: "Snoopy" produced by Peanut butter Players is preceded by lunch at 1:30 p.m. in Genesius Theatre, Mercy High School, 11 Mile and Middebelt Road. Package-priced tickets are $3 available by calling the theater, 559-1893. Children's luncheon theater continues weekends through Feb. 22-23.

● 'CREATING A FAMILY'
Sunday, Jan. 20: "Husband-Wife Relationship" begins "Creating a Family" iftm series at 3 p.m.
and again at 6:30 p.m. in Spirit of Christ Lutheran Church, on 10 Mile, between Haggerty and Meadowbrook in Novl. Five-part series co-sponsored with Hope Lutheran Church. No charge, Baby-sitting services oftered.

● SUPER BOWL, BUFFET
Sunday, Jan. 20: Buffet and vicwing the Super Bowl on an 3-foot TV screen begins at 4 p.m. in VFW Post 2269, on Orchard Lake Road, north of Grand River. Ticketa are $4, in advance by callling
Sue Screpaniak, 471-3642, or at the door.

• 'SKATE TO BEAT DIABETES'

Sunday, Jan. 20: "Skate to Beat Diabetes," skate-a-thon to benefit American Diabetes Association,

Dr. T. Sue Willis Family Practice Physician and Surgeon

Specializing InBosses, Cicken, Terroares, Add Service attractional to the Control of C

retirement memos

Margaret Miller

Dad—man to remember

A remarkable life came to an end just a week before Christimas. My father elled at age 92, after a time among us full of years, full of respect, and especially full of love.

I've written before in this space about the wonderful man the world knew as Haryolf Hyde and we knew as Dad and Grandpa. Never wrote enough, though. I know I never can fit his spirit into a few columns of type, but I'll give it my best she his casket after I flow to Michigan, receiving those who came to pay their respects. Not all that many when you reach $2 you've outlived most of those who knew you well.

But the comments were memory "Never a bad word for anyone." A true generation. I've with the accent on the gentleman — with the accent on the gentle." "He never complained."

tle." "He never complained."

ALL WERE TRUE, we agreed in the family, except maybe the one about bad words. Long ago Dad vented a lot of them against FDR and the New Deal. In every other respect he bad only tolerance and compassion.

Certainly he never complained. Not when he worked for a pittance to support his family during the Depression, bringing home every evening a pack of work to be staved over far into the night after baths, bedtime stories and homework assistance were completed. Not when argumentative and sometimes uncooperative children made lift deals to the staved over self-pitting, better, in his second marriage, he was griof-stricken but bever self-pitting. Later, in his second canatically attentive to our stepmother.

MEMORIES OF Dad are much with me now. I think of the stories he used to invent for me and the dollhouse he al-most finished just before dawn one think back, too, to the help be gave his own father and aunts and brothers and aunts and brothers and sisters. I recall the devotion always in his eyes when he looked on the wow women he married. I remember the special bond that developed between him and the grandsulpter who was a baby when my mother died. I think of the fun times be gave all his grandchildren.

grandchildren.

And I treasure another memory that goes back only to last September. Dad by then was in a nursing bome, where the staff loved him. He couldn't see or hear or talk much, and he rarely responded except to say be didn't hurt and he didn't need anything.

and he didn't need anything.

But that day our minister-daughter and I sat beside him, each holding a hand and singing along with bymns she had put on a tupe for him. Dad started singing, all the bymns, all the way through. And later my nephew placed his baby daughter on Greatgrandpar lap and the appreciation was mutual. She held his linger and rubbed his check with a small hand. He kissed her head repeatedly.

AT DAD'S funeral service, the minister quoted a friend of fairly recent years who had remarked that "every family should have a Harold Hyde."
I agree, but I must disappoint the rest of the world. There are no more Harold Hydes. I am positive I'll never know anyone like him.

Margaret Miller was Suburban Life editor for Observer Newspa-pers for 16 years. She and her hus-band, Joe, have retired to Florida where she writes Retirement Memos.

