History essay winners honored

Quakertown Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) will honor five winners of the DAR American history essay contest, their parents and teachers at the chapter meeting at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 19, in Farmington Hills Branch Library.

The winners, sponsored by Quakertown, are Matthew Phippiotti, a fifth grader from Gili Elementary School; Almoe King and Meghan Tuynman, seventh and eighth graders from Temple Christian School; Shannon Ballard and Shelley Oxy, fifth and eighth graders from Plymouth Christian Academy.

The topic of their essays was "The Statue of Liberty, The Lady with a Lamp." The contest was open to students in grades five to eight. Entries undergo local, division and national judging by a panel of non-DAR judges. Gold medals will be presented to divisional winners. The four national winners, one in each grade level, will receive a gold medal and a $100 savings bond.

The essays of the national winners are published each year in the Daughters of the American Revolution magazine.

The February meeting of all DAR chapters is devoted to observing American History Month.

Mrs. Neil W. Hoard serves as regent of Quakertown Chapter. Mrs. C. Harold Dolph, the chapter's American History Month chairman, will present the five winners with their awards.
