

Business Expo sponsors contest

"Office Automation/Business Communication - Where Are We Going" is the theme of an essay contest for local high school seniors enrolled in a business curriculum.

The contest is open to students in Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne counties. The theme must be 2,500 words or less. The deadline for submitting essays is April 15 to Business-Expo, Student Essay Contest, 15545 Northland Drive, 200 E. Northland Tower, Southfield 48075.

"Business students today are interested in automation and technical advancements in office equipment and products," said Janet Curcio, director of public relations for Business-Expo. Today's students are tomorrow's business decision makers.

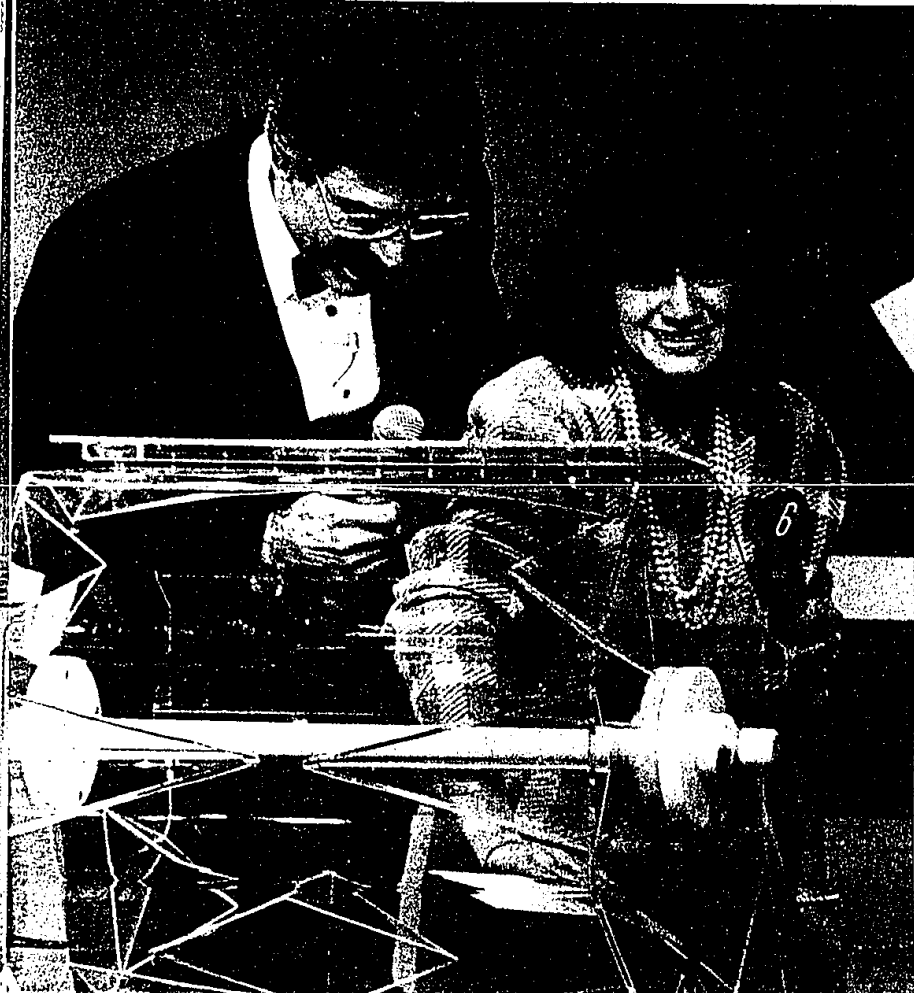

"By sponsoring this contest we are encouraging students to be aware of the dramatic changes in office equipment and to look ahead at what 'their' office environment may be like one day."

The essays will be judged by Dr. Peter Brown, editor of Crain's Detroit Business; Dr. John Kushner, director of business education for Detroit Public Schools; and David P. Hobendorf, editor/general manager of Oakland Business Monthly.

The winner will be announced May 1.

The winning essay will be displayed at Business-Expo May 21-23 at Cobo Hall where 40,000 visitors will attend America's largest business trade show featuring more than 1,000 exhibits. Complimentary tickets are available for the business community by calling 568-8180. The essays must have attached the following: student's name, address, telephone, school, principal's name and telephone number.

Niran Yano, 24 of Farmington Hills, won $20,000 in the Michigan Lottery's "3 for the Money" instant game. The drawing was televised Feb. 2 and hosted by radio personality Dick Purtan.
