Bedroom pieces with distinctive charm.

America - the "melting pot" of cultures. Where old world influences blend into new traditions. Villager by Thomasville is a pleasing example of this unique style. The European love of dramatic, flowing shapes and the Early American demand for strength and versatility are captured beautifully in both the bedroom and dining room pieces of this collection. Villager is meticulously crafted in the Thomasville tradition, from premium piece solids and veneers. Each piece is hand-rubbed in a warm, distinctive "Saddle" finish and accented with magnificent brass-finished hardware. At once Early American and European in flavor, Villager offers a new tradition for your home.
