

Bette Appel's fashion statements are gaining the Bloomfield Township designer an international reputation. This season, says Bette, she took inspiration from slouchy, comfortable men's wear when creating oversized, yarn dyed long jacket, $300, new length crop pant, $150, available mid-March at Bette Appel, 6925 Orchard Lake Road, West Bloomfield.

As a public relations specialist, Camille Shey of Birmingham understands presenting an attractive package. Her cavalry twill jacket by Martinique, $80, print shirt by In 'Wear, $50, white big shirt, also by Martinique, $60, and grey, pleated skirt, $84, are from Mark Keller, Birmingham. Jewelry by Twiggs includes dimple earrings, $20, bracelet, $35, jolly bean necklace, $85. Shoes by Kenneth Cole, Birmingham.

For versatility, big shirt is a steal

THE OVERSIZE shirt is unabashedly plagiarized from menswear. It is one of this season's most versatile shapes, and it can be worn in a variety of ways.

Try it with shirttails knotted at the waist or tied through belt loops. Try it with a tie and vest. Try it layered, back buttoned, as a mini dress, or as a jacket over a slim silk tank or nothing at all.

For fun accents to shirt dressing, add menswear ties in summer fabrics and colors. Add a pocket handkerchief. Add cuff links, tie bars... even buttoned suspenders!
