July leagues offer youths incentives

With a look to the future, something new is being tried in several of the bowl-ing establishments in the Observerland area. It is a farm system and the juniors are being invited, with special induce-ments, to start their leagues or enter the ments, to start their leagues or enter the special events in July. It was started down in the South Bowl lanes when the young bowlers are given tow free games each day. And now Merri-Bowl in Livonia has arranged to have the Parks and Recreation league start its regular season in July. There will be special inducements, such as refreshments. Other establishments are planning the same thing

CHARITY: The first official reports of the charity bowling came last week when the Johnny Smith Old Timers, a group that
