

Employee program is chamber topic

Farmington-Farmington Hills Chamber of Commerce invites members and guests to a general membership luncheon at noon Thursday at the Holiday Inn on West 10 Mile Road.

The luncheon will be highlighted by a presentation sponsored by the Farmington Area Advisory Council

(FAAC) on Employee Assistance Programs. FAAC's consultant Deborah Comstock will describe how such programs, designed to help troubled employees, work.

The luncheon fee is $10. Reservations are requested by Tuesday.

Pamphlet offered

A new pamphlet, "How to Protect Yourself from Drinking Drivers," is available at all Secretary of State branch offices.

The pamphlet tells how to recognize drivers who may have been drinking, when drinking drivers may be encountered on highways and what can be done to avoid them.

A total of 1,331 highway deaths occurred in Michigan in 1983 and 1,551 in 1984, said Secretary of State Richard Austin. Alcohol was involved in more than half in both years.

Despite efforts of public and private agencies, law enforcement and safety organizations, alcohol-involved highway deaths have increased, he said.

YOU'RE INVITED

Make plans now to attend AAA's Home Security and Fire Safety Open House scheduled for Wednesday, June 19, and Thursday, June 20, at the Farmington Office of AAA Michigan.

From 6:30 to 8:30 each evening, you'll have an opportunity to witness live demonstrations of the most efficient fire warning and extinguishing devices on the market. You'll learn about ways to safeguard your home against burglary and vandalism. And you'll have a chance to visit with experts, view informative displays and enjoy refreshments in a relaxed open house atmosphere.

Stop by for a few minutes or stay till the end. Either way, you'll leave with plenty of great ideas...not to mention a handy gift for your home, compliments of AAA Michigan (one gift per household). So join us...
