Called "the Ribbon Project," it was

FROM MICHIGAN, some 100 participants left at midnight Friday on a 10-hour bus trip. On board were Pence and four cloth panels made by herself and others from the Schoolcraft center. Each carried the same theme-mes-

A Farmington Hills mother of two who plans to take part said she will use

ALL OF this comes, Pence said, at a time when daily newspaper headlines are declaring the nuclear freeze move-

Another problem she cited was "we're fighting a tremendous infras-

They (the public) think the people in Washington have the situation under control. After all, we're back to Geneva (the site of nuclear arms negotiations).

Naturally...
