

Hills realigns voting precincts

The new Farmington Hills voting precinct boundaries.

By Joanne Maliszewski
staff writer

Farmington Hills has added three new voting precincts to its existing 24 precincts in time to accommodate roughly 41,000 registered voters in the Tuesday, Nov. 5, general election.

"We just had too much congestion in our polling places," said Farmington Hills City Clerk Joan Reynolds.

In the past year, the number of registered voters has increased by about 1,500, she added.

Even though the number of voters expected to turn out for the city council election will be no where near the numbers that voted in last year's presidential election, Reynolds said she believes the city's 27 precincts can handle any size turnout.

"It makes sense to make the move in a smaller (election) year," Reynolds said.

Adding new precincts during a presidential or state election can create havoc. Making the changes during the city council election gives voters time to become accustomed to where they should vote when the next big election comes up, she said.

HEADQUARTERS FOR the three new precincts will be in Hope Lutheran Church, 39200 12 Mile, Universalist Unitarian Church, 25501 Halsted, and Power Middle School, 34740 Rhoadswood.

Precinct 12 (Hope Lutheran Church) will accommodate voters south of 13 Mile and west of Drake. They previously voted at Farmington Hills Fire Headquarters, 28711 Drake.

Precinct 27 (Universalist Unitarian Church) will accommodate voters at Muirwood Apartments. They previously voted at the Independence Green Clubhouse, near Grand River and Halsted.

Precinct 1 (Power Middle School) will accommodate voters south of 9 Mile, between Middlebelt on the east and Halsted on the west. They previously voted at Gill Elementary School, 21195 Gill.

Other changes include switching the location of precincts 8 and 9. Voters in Precinct 8 will vote at Larkshire Elementary School, 23800 Tuck, instead of East Middle School. Voters in Precinct 9 will vote at East Middle School, 25000 Middlebelt, instead of Larkshire Elementary.

The city clerk's staff is also updating the absentee voter list. The city maintains a mailing list of all voters older than 60. Voters on this list automatically receive a request for an absentee ballot application, Reynolds said.

IN THE next few months, voters will receive a postcard in the mail asking if they want to remain on the automatic list, Reynolds said. They are to send the answered postcard back to city hall. Those who wish to remain on the list will automatically receive an absentee ballot, Reynolds said.

"If you don't respond, you'll be dropped from the list," she said.

Voters who ask that their name be dropped from the list may later be asked for it to be added should they be unable to attend the polls, Reynolds added.

AN AFTERNOON OF FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY!

Extravaganza aids mentally retarded

Community Living Centers Inc. will hold its second annual Togue Blanche Do Monday at Forest Lake Country Club, Bloomfield Hills.

The dinner and fashion show will feature the great chefs of the area. It also will feature "The Best of American Designers," presented by Northland Center Company. Chef Miles Chelika of the Golden Mushroom is chairing this year's dinner.

This Togue Blanche Do is Community Living Centers Inc.'s major annual fund-raiser and will benefit the adult mentally retarded residents of the centers.

This year's party will be a double celebration as Community Living

Centers received the National Residential Services Award Sept. 11 in Washington, D.C., at the 15th-anniversary awards banquet of the National Association of Private Residential Facilities for the mentally retarded.

Community Living Centers is in its 14th year of providing residential services to adults with mental retardation in Oakland County.

Reservations for the Togue Blanche Do, at $75 per person (tax deductible), can be made by sending a check to Community Living Centers, 33229 Grand River, Farmington 48024 or by calling the office at 478-0870. The complimentary cocktail hour begins at 6:30 p.m.
