

Questers mark 25th year

Quakertown Questers donned hats and gloves of bygone eras to wear for tea in celebration of the chapter's 25th anniversary. Members of the antique study group at left are Gail Koeber who came in a calico dress of the Victorian era; Joan Draper in a pillbox from the '60's and Ruth Falahee in a hat from the early '40s. Mary Ann Draper's hat (above at left) was worn first in the '30s. Pam Correll and Pat Somerjian (standing) both wear the hats Jacqueline Kennedy made popular in the country. Hostess Ann Timmons poured tea in a wedding dress and hat, both first worn in the early '20s. The members, also concerned with restoration, were instrumental in helping refurbish the former Warner house during its renovation into the Farmington Historical Museum.

Mercy's fall term begins

Open swim, lap swim, swim and fitness classes, aerobics, and small weight workouts are all on Mercy Center's fall agenda from Oct. 31 to Dec. 20.

"Saturday Surprise" continues from 9:30 a.m. to noon for the 3-12-year-old set. Youngsters 5-13 are invited for an overnight stay Nov. 29. A Halloween Party is scheduled for Oct. 30 and a Thanksgiving Day Camp is set for Nov. 29.

Helping Hands is a new tutoring program for elementary age children. Also new to the schedule are a nature club for 5-10-year-olds and "Paint and Play," a mom-and-tot creative art and movement experience.

Inquiries may be made by calling the center, 475-8010.

Obedience classes start

Obedience classes for dogs who are six months and older will begin Tuesday, Nov. 5, in Westland by Wolverine Dog Training Club. Interested persons are invited to call Lori Benz, 337-8988.

students can attend classes and lectures developed by college faculty, including: "How To Put It In Writing: Getting Ready for College Composition."

A tour of the campus will offer demonstrations in sign language interpreting, blood pressure taking and operating the computers in Madonna's computer lab. Refreshments will be provided and lunch is available in the Madonna College Dining Hall.

For registration, call 591-5052. Madonna College is Michigan's largest independent coeducational liberal arts college, offering more than 50 major fields of study, which lead to an associate, bachelor's or master's degree. Madonna is at the intersection of I-96 and Levan, Livonia.

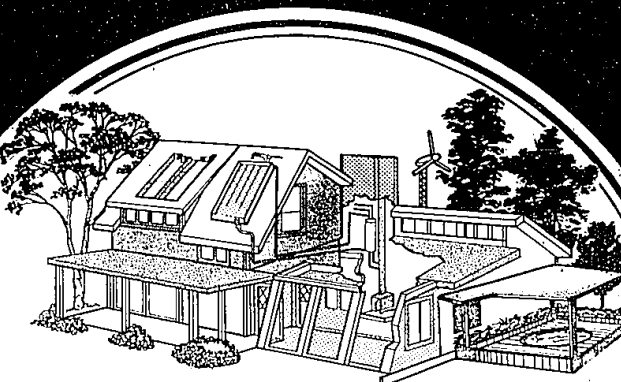

Skylab pilot to talk about space flight

Astronaut Jack Lousma, pilot of Skylab 3 in the summer of 1973 and commander of space shuttle "Columbia" in 1982, will be the after-dinner speaker for American Welding Society at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 18, in Management Conference Center, 811 West Square Lake Road, Troy.

The event is sponsored by Brazing & Soldering Division of the society and is open to guests. Reservations, at $25, are taken by Mary Ann Rock, 893-3800. Lousma will narrate a film of his spaceflight called "Diary of an Astronaut," talk about working and traveling in space and answer questions from the audience.
