13 pieces in show

Thirteen is not an unlucky number for artist Elise Pedersen. She says the 13 pieces in her "Miniatures and More" show represent the best of her recent works.

The one-woman show will remain on exhibit in the Quiet Room of Farmington Hills Branch Library, 12 Mile Road east of Farmington Road, through the month. "Miniatures and More" includes work on oil on canvas, oil on paper and watercolor.

The Birmingham resident is a member of Farmington Artists Club and Palette and Brush Club. She studied at the Center for Creative Studies, at University of Michigan, and privately with Johanna Hays, Mary Fee and Audrey DiMarco.

She has amassed a host of awards and her work is among private collections in Michigan, Connecticut, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Florida, Denmark, Norway and England.

Therapeutic swim class set

A ten-week session of therapeutic swim classes will begin at 11 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 5, in Farmington YWCA. The class is open to those recovering from stroke and the physically handicapped, sponsored by Easter Seal Society of Oakland County.

Cost for the class is $40, or $20 for those over 59 years, but no one is denied because of inability to pay. Registration and inquiries are taken by calling the recreational therapist at Easter Seal Society in Pontiac, 338-9625.

Recognized

Josephine Cusumano, a resident of Farmington Hills and manager of Showcase of Fine Fabrics, was recognized for her managerial talents when 12-Oaks Mall hosted its Marketing Conference this fall. The conference is the annual meeting for managers and corporate representatives of the 170 stores in the Novi mall.
