

Airing on ABC

Michael Ontkean (far right) arouses the passions of the voters — and the worries of police officers Billy Dee Williams (left) and John Randolph when he calls for an ordinance to allow citizens to carry handguns in "The Right of the People" which will be shown on ABC-TV at 9 p.m. Jan. 13. Above, internationally-acclaimed comedian Bruce Forsyth stars in and hosts ABC's new daytime game show "Bruce Forsyth's Hot Streak" which will premier at 11 a.m. Jan. 6.

"Little Big Man" (1977), 1:30 Saturday night on Ch. 52. Originally 150 minutes. TV time slot: 1:30 minutes. It's a comedy, it's a tragedy, it's an American epic. Arthur Penn's film of Thomas Berger's novel is movie opera (and horse opera) at its best. Dustin Hoffman plays Jack Crabb, either one of the world's great adventurers or one of the world's great liars. The action keeps on coming, and along the way Penn has a great deal to say about the American experience and myth building. Gen. Custer, Wild Bill Hickok and other western luminaries appear. Chief Dan George gives an inspired performance. Rating: $3.50.

"The Subject Was Roses" (1968), 12:30 Sunday night on Ch. 7. Originally 107 minutes. TV time slot: 1:45 minutes. Jack Albertson, Patricia Neal and Martin Sheen give outstanding performances in this film version of the Pulitzer Prize winning play. It is a sad, uncomfortable look at family relationships. Everyone tries so hard to make things work out, but they never do. Albertson won an Oscar for his reprise of the role he originated on stage. This is essentially a filmed play but worth seeing. Rating: $3.

"Pat Garrett and Billy the Kid" (1973), 12:30 Wednesday night on Ch. 7. Originally 100 minutes. TV time slot: 1:50 minutes. Another American myth is the subject of this curiosity from Sam Peckinpah. A chubby Kris Kristofferson is grossly miscast as the dim-witted outlaw. The great Bob Dylan is reduced to being a scraggly Greek chorus for the blooded drama. His acting debut is less than auspicious. But there are pluses. James Coburn is excellent as the opportunistic Garrett. Jason Robards does an interesting bit as Gov. Lew Wallace (later to write "Ben Hur"). And Peckinpah does seem to be trying to say something. But what is it? Rating: $2.25.
