

Cable airwaves offer local programming

Lark Samouelian is executive director of Southwestern Oakland Cable Connection.

Creative energy is bubbling over with local television taking priority on many personal agendas.

The Kiwanis Club and MetroVision staff are encouraging residents to tune in over to the studio to speak out. This show will be taped twice a month giving everyone and anyone a one-minute spot to air their views on any subject. Drop a line to: Production Department of Metrovision "Speak Out," 27025 Enterprise Court, Farmington Hills 48018, phone 555-7303.

Shows are to begin in March. Due to the energies of Laura Collins, the Trinity House Theatre will be sharing its original plays with our television audience. How proud we are to have the privilege of adding their programming to our Channel 12. We are always seeking ways to produce more interesting programming. Therefore, we are requesting that if you have been practicing taping video someone rather than no one would be interested in what may be on the tape. Your exploration may indeed be just the trick to spice up an otherwise regular show. Call SWOCC office to share 473-7255.

Metrovision of Oakland County's public-access programming on for the week of Feb. 10.
