Your crowning glory

Whether it's the engagement party, bridal shower, rehearsal dinner or wedding day itself, all eyes are on the bride.

You will want to look radiant, and what better way to start than with an extra-special hairstyle? Long, short, curly or straight hair — you can achieve dazzling looks with versatile styling and a little imagination. For the festivities before and after your special day, why not try a totally different hairstyle to mirror the change in your life.

Choose a wedding day look to compliment your bridal headpiece. For example, if you're planning a traditional wedding and wearing a classic veil, choose an elegant upswept hairstyle accented with tiny curls at your forehead. To style, blow dry hair with head forward, then back, using a low heat and air setting.

Create delicate forehead curls with a curling iron on the mist setting. Wind front hair sections around the barrel, release and pull curls forward gently so they rest on the forehead.

Sweep side tresses off the face with a brush sprayed lightly with hair spray. Smooth hair back, separate into three sections and braid. Twist the braid into a coil and secure at the back of the head with bobby pins.

For a more informal look, frame your face with soft waves. To style, comb setting lotion into wet hair and twist tiny braids in front and side hair sections. When dry, unravel braids and comb through lightly with your fingertips. This hairstyle looks especially attractive when topped with a delicate crown of flowers.

If a high style wedding hat is your choice, try pulling hair back into an elegant bun tucked underneath the hat. Add softness by curling hair wisps at your forehead and cheeks with a curling iron.

Whatever your decision, start experiments with hairstyles well ahead of your wedding day.

Dowries returned

Among primitive people, divorce usually is accompanied by repayment of dowries, purchase prices and other material exchanges dating from the time of the wedding.
