

Yes they can! Rocks take pool crown

N. Farmington 3rd, Tumey gets double

By Brad Emons
staff writer

A sign high on the wall proclaimed, "Salem Rocks and Rolls."

There was no disputing that Friday night, as host Plymouth Salem kept the Western Lakes Conference boys swim trophy right at home before a jam-packed crowd, who watched 12 teams battle for honors.

It was the Rocks' third Western Lakes title in four years. Salem scored 225 points with defending conference champion Livonia Stevenson, only 14 behind in second place, tallying 211. League newcomer North Farmington took third with 169. (See statistical summary).

"We're back," said Salem coach Chuck Olson, who took a victory dunking after the meet. "I was worried about Stevenson because we were in a similar position last year (when Salem settled for second). This year we tried to learn from our mistakes."

"Nobody was picking us to win before the season. But we had some guys willing to change events and it helps."

WHEN YOU'RE talking about the Western Lakes, swimming doesn't take a back seat to any of the other league sports.

Seven league records were broken and one other was tied among the 11 events.

Salem took only one first — Kevin Zarow in the 50-yard freestyle — but the Rocks piled up points with depth, especially in the consolation heats (places 7 through 12).

"We can beat Salem in a dual meet, but we can't beat them here," said Stevenson coach Doug Buckler. "They just have too much depth."

"I'm really proud of Salem, and I'm really proud of my team, too. We'll be back next year."

ZAROW, who broke the 50 freestyle mark in Wednesday's preliminaries (22.11), held off North's Mike Butti and teammate Rick Cummings to win the final.

North's Mike Tumey shattered a pair of records, going 1:46.31 in the 200 freestyle and 4:44.74 in the 500 freestyle. Tumey also teamed up with Butti, Dan Mannisto and Craig Burland to win the 400 freestyle relay in 3:17.73, after the quartet had clocked a league record 3:17.12 in the prelims.

Stevenson recorded four firsts on the night.

The biggest surprise came from senior Dennis Ward, who won the 100 freestyle in 49.17. He bested Butti, who set a league record in the prelims (48.92), and Zarow, who battled for the lead in the two middle lanes. Ward, meanwhile, stressed down lane No. 1 and caught everybody by surprise.

"D.J. (Ward) had tapered down (cut back his workouts) for only five days," Buckler explained. "I just told him to just swim and relax in lane No. 1 and do the best he could for us."

Joe Saunders of Stevenson matched Tumey's output with firsts in the 100 butterfly (54.04) and 100 backstroke (56.44), missing the record in the backstroke by one-hundredth of a second. Saunders also teamed up with Jamie York, Steve Tarmina and Chris Morasky to win the 200 medley relay in 1:41.12.

OTHER IMPRESSIVE league record setters included Westland John Glenn's John Jensen in 200 individual medley (2:00.57), Plymouth Canton's Andy Flower in diving (462.75 points) and Livonia Franklin's Dave Goralski in the 100 breaststroke (1:02.57).

Jensen also pushed Tumey in the 500 freestyle, finishing second with a time of 4:48.05. His clocking in the 200 tied Farmington's Alice Campbell, who set the record in 1983.

Flower, meanwhile, repeated as league diving champ, breaking his own record in the process, adding 23.15 from his 1985 point total.

Goralski, who helped Franklin to a surprising sixth, bested his preliminary time by nearly 2.56 seconds.

But the despite all the individual accomplishments, the night belonged to Olson and his team.

"You have a guy like Cummings, who could have been right up there in the breaststroke, go to the freestyle where he took a third in the 50 and fifth in the 100 — it helps," said the Salem coach.

"And you have another guy like Don Harwood give up his spot in the backstroke."

"They made a little bit of sacrifice and that made a big difference."

Churchill ends regular season play with a 12-8 record. Farmington is 9-11.

NORTHVILLE, 72, SALEM 63: Free throws played a big role in this contest, as well.

The game, played Thursday night, was tied at 51-51 entering the final quarter. But Northville rolled off a 21-12 spurt in the final eight minutes thanks to some less-than-marksman-like free throw shooting by the Rocks.

Salem missed the front ends of six one-and-one free throw opportunities in the final quarter. On the night, Northville was successful on 18 of 25 from the line. Salem hit nine of 18. Northville (15-5) also held a rebounding edge. The Mustangs had 22 offensive rebounds to Salem's 12. Overall, Northville pulled down 43 rebounds to Salem's 36.

Don Norton led Northville with 25 points. Matt Hinds added 17 and Gary Harper 11.

For the Rocks, Mike Hale scored 16 and Paul Makara 15. Bryan Kearls chipped in 11.

The Rocks are 10-10.

Correction

Editor's note: The following information was inadvertently omitted from Thursday's article regarding the state regional wrestling tournament. We regret the error.

In the Class B regional wrestling tournament at Monroe Catholic Central, Farmington Harrison's Cliff Alcantara (105 pounds) and Pat McFadden (165) qualified for the Saturday's state meet at Charlotte. Alcantara placed third in the region, McFadden second.

Harrison placed 14th overall with 24 1/2 points.

Results of Saturday's state meet will appear in Thursday's Farmington Observer.
