

Broomfield paying a visit to Soviet Union

U.S. Rep. Dante B. Fascell, D-Fla., House Foreign Affairs Committee chairman, and Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Birmingham, ranking minority member, left Wednesday for a week of high-level meetings in the Soviet Union.

Broomfield represents Birmingham.

the Bloomfields, West Bloomfield, Rochester, Troy, Farmington and Farmington Hills.

The official visit to Moscow and Leningrad is being made at the invitation of the chairman of the two foreign affairs committees of the Supreme Soviet. One is chaired by Yegor Ligachev, party secretary who is considered second only to Mikhail Gorbachev in the Soviet leadership.

While in Moscow, Fascell and Broomfield, will take part in a series of high-level meetings, including sessions with Politburo members, on a range of issues affecting U.S.-Soviet relations, such as arms control, human rights, regional issues and the future course of the Soviet Union in view of Gorbachev's planned reforms.

policy initiatives in the U.S.S.R. and will communicate directly to them U.S. interests and congressional concerns.

He will make inquiries about 13 Russians who have been refused exit from the U.S.S.R. The names have been collected from Detroit-area Jewish agencies.

Broomfield also will plead the case of a 26-year-old Southfield attorney whose Russian-born wife has been refused exit twice. Her third application is pending.

Broomfield also hopes to investigate the case of Igor Ogurtsov, a Christian dissident, charged with treason and serving the 10th year of a 20-year prison sentence.

Wanted — local scholars

Athletes, move over — it's time for the student scholars in our communities to be recognized.

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers will pick its second Academic All Star Team this spring — and judging from last year's success there should be some proud students and parents around.

Scholars will be selected using a formula that takes into account their grades in academic subjects and scores on national tests like the SAT and ACT.

High schools must mail their nominations to us by April 4. Scores will be verified by a team of educators and winners will be announced in the May 1 editions of all Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

THE CONGRESSMEN noted that their visit comes at an opportune time in relations between the two super powers, with the Watershed 27th Party Congress recently completed, the new Gorbachev team in place, and another summit expected this year.

They will meet with officials who are forging new political and foreign
