

Mercyaires concert nears

They have performed before more than 100,000 people and will return to where it all began.

The Mercyaires, a popular singing group from Mercy High School, will celebrate its silver anniversary with a reunion of 250 former Mercyaires during the school's annual spring concert, 3 p.m. Saturday, May 17, in the high school auditorium, 29300 11 Mile, Farmington Hills.

The Mercyaires grew out of a desire to have a traveling choral group, said founder and director Larry Teevens. "The demand for the group increased with every year," he said.

"We have gone through many changes in 25 years of entertaining people of all ages. However, the group has continued to be representative of the high quality of education achieved at Mercy High School and fulfills the school's philosophy of community service," Teevens said.

"EVERY PERFORMANCE is a delight. Among the most memorable are the Great American Choral Festival where we won first-place regionally and third place nationally. The Mercyaires were the only all-girl group to be so honored.

"Other special moments include our recording sessions, regular Christmas caroling efforts and most recently our performance with Ramsey's Clooney at the Premier Center," Teevens said.

Clooney has asked The Mercyaires for a repeat performance when she returns to the Detroit area next year.

The original group of 14 girls were required to wear formal choral jackets and pull their hair back. Movement and dance were not part of the show.

The repertoire of today's Mercyaires includes songs from the Beatles, Mozart and Motown. The group continues to perform other audience favorites — as they have throughout the years — like "Ave Maria" and "The Prayer of St. Francis."

Choreography also is incorporated into the 21 girl show and members continue to provide the necessary musical backup on piano, guitar, bass and drums.

Former Mercyaires from as far away as California and Washington, D.C. are expected at the 25-year reunion. A reception honoring the Mercyaires and their families will immediately follow the concert.

Any former Mercyaire who has not been contacted can call Larry Teevens at 476-8020 for details. General admission to the concert is $3.

Sign up for TV courses

The summertime is the right time to earn undergraduate credit at home through WTVS' College Cable Channel.

Registration for the spring/summer session is under way with most classes beginning May 19. Five Detroit-area colleges and universities are offering credit for telecourses and 16 cable companies will be telecasting the courses along with Channel 50.

"People are on the go in the summer months and College Cable can fit right into that busy schedule," said Janice Cunningham, acting WTVS education coordinator.

"Working students, senior citizens, homemakers, the handicapped and other non-traditional students will find College Cable a convenient service for earning undergraduate credits."

In the spring/summer term, 21 courses will be offered in business, health care, computer sciences, liberal arts and social science. Of those, 14 will be broadcast on Channel 50 as well as on the College Cable Channel. Among the courses available this term are "The Business of Management," "Sociology of the Auto Industry" and a physics study titled

"The Mechanical Universe."

The 16 cable companies which carry the College Cable Channel cover 61 communities in southeastern Michigan. Since the College Cable Channel began in 1982, 12,000 students have used this innovative service. Metrovision is the Farmington-area cable company.

For a free brochure describing the spring/summer telecourse offerings and listings of participating colleges and cable companies, call the WTVS Education department at 873-7200, Ext. 282.
