Vancouver's 100th sparks classy world fair

XPO '86, and the area around the fair site in western Canada, are the big travel storage and the excits summer Photos of the exciting world's for have been all over the television screen, and on magazine and new-poper pages, since Exps opened May 2 in Vancouver, British Columbia.

They will continue to tantalize us until the fair closes bet, 13, but you will need a lot more than pretty pictures to help you plan a trip in that direction.

Most mid-summer travelers have made their plans already. If you ha-ven't, think September and October when the kids are back at school. You will probably get reservations for those months.

THE BEST WAY to find space to such an event is usually by buying a package tour. Travel wholesalers buy blocks of rooms, so they can sell you air transportation, hotel rooms and fair tickets for a package price.
