

Hundreds apply for police cadet positions

By Joanne Maliszewski

The selection process has begun for the Farmington Hills Police Department's revived cadet program, scheduled to begin in September.

More than 400 applications for three cadet positions have been received. Of the total, 311 applicants have been scheduled to take a law enforcement examination Saturday, June 7, Police Chief William Dwyer said.

The cadet program provides young men and women interested in a law enforcement career an opportunity to get their feet in the door by training prior to assuming full duties of sworn officers, Dwyer said.

The program is designed to offer cadets 2-3 years of training and work experience to prepare them — as openings occur — to be selected as sworn officers, Dwyer added.

FINANCING of the revived cadet program is included in the city's proposed 1986-87 budget along with the hiring of four additional sworn police officers in August and another two in January 1987.

Cadets will earn an annual starting salary of $15,200, plus benefits. Cadets will be eligible for educational reimbursement for an associate or bachelor's degree in police administration or other field that would be beneficial to the police department.

Wedding brunch planned

The Botsford Inn in Farmington Hills is hosting a champagne anniversary wedding brunch from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 17.

Couples who have celebrated their wedding reception, silver or golden anniversary party at the inn may attend.

The brunch will also include musical entertainment. Lou Emmert, known for his performance in "South Pacific" at the Botsford Dinner Theater, has agreed to perform selected songs. Emmert and his wife celebrated their wedding reception at Botsford Inn and will be attending the brunch. There also will be strolling musicians.

Sworn officers are required to have a minimum two years of college. City and police officers revived the program to keep pace with the growing community and expected increased activity in the new police facility, Dwyer said.

CADETS, WHO must be at least 17½-years-old, will be assigned to the department's patrol division, and detective, communication and property sections.

Farmington Hills offered the cadet program in the late 1960s and early 1970s, when it was financed through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). When the federal government eliminated CETA, Farmington Hills eliminated the cadet program in 1974, Dwyer said.

Interested parties may obtain reservations by mailing a copy of their formal reception or party invitation to the inn.

Botsford Inn is encouraging participants to mail a photo from their reception or party as well.

The brunch will also include musical entertainment. Lou Emmert, known for his performance in "South Pacific" at the Botsford Dinner Theater, has agreed to perform selected songs. Emmert and his wife celebrated their wedding reception at Botsford Inn and will be attending the brunch. There also will be strolling musicians.

Couples wanting more information or reservations, should mail a copy of their reception or party invitation to Botsford Inn, 28000 Grand River, Farmington Hills 48024, 474-4800.
